RUNAWAY CAR CAUSES WRECK

Control of Loaded Trolley Lost and It Dashed Down Fifth Avenue.

EIGHT PERSONS HURT

It Crashes Into Cars and Causes Uproar Which Attracts 5,000 People.

MANY TRAMPLED IN CRUSH

Traction cars and wagons smashing and crashing into each other, mingled with the cries of frightened people and the noise of breaking glass threw the vicinity of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street into pandemonium at 5:15 last evening. The uproar was heard for several blocks, and over 5,000 people were attracted to the scene, adding to the confusion. The trouble was caused by a runaway car in Fifth avenue. Eight people were hurt, and damage to property resulted.

THE INJURED:

MRS. GEORGE KEATOR of 204 North Dithridge street, Bellefield; knee hurt by jumping from a Bloomfield car.

MRS. QUEEN of Emerson street, East End, cut and bruised by being thrown to the ground while attempting to board a car.

A. V. TODD, motorman of Braddock; leg broken; taken to his home.

MISS MARY BEDNER of Dooker's hollow, North Braddock; badly bruised and hurt internally by being trampled by crowd; taken home.

DANIEL M'CANN, a painter of 86 Dookers hollow, North Braddock; badly bruised by being trampled by crowd; taken home.

HARRY E. MONTGOMERY of 101 Pride street; hurt about the head by being knocked from his wagon. Went home.

A. RUSTUNE of 216 Stockton avenue, Allegheny; bruised about the body by being thrown from his wagon. Went home.

B. SHEHADI of 216 Stockton avenue, Allegheny; bruised by being knocked from wagon. Went home.

Some of the injured were attended by physicians downtown and the people from North Braddock were placed on a car and taken to the office of Dr. C. C. Huff, the traction company's physician, in Fifth avenue, Homestead, where their injuries were dressed. Several other persons were bruised, but managed to get away before their names were learned.

Car Slipped its Trolley.

People were crowding out of the stores and big office buildings when the accident occurred. The usual big crowd was starting home from work, and many had collected at Fifth and Smithfield to wait for the cars. A Fifth and Highland car carrying a trailer started up the "hump." The car and trailer was both overcrowded and when the car was nearing Cherry alley the trolley slipped from the wire. Almost instantly the cars shot backward. The conductors on the rear of the car and trailer were unable to apply the rear hand brakes, as the rear platforms were crowded with people.

The runaway car shot down the steep hill to Smithfield street at terrific speed. Rustune and Shehadi were crossing Smithfield street in a light spring wagon. The rear of the trailer struck the rear of the wagon and smashed it to splinters, throwing the two men out on the blockstones.

Just below Smithfield street car No. 109 of the Homestead division was taking on passengers. Without warning the runaway cars passed the wagon at a bound and smashed into the front of the Homestead car. That car was sent flying backward into car No. 500 of the Bloomfield division and the shock sent the Bloomfield car backward into a wagon of the Edward E. Reick Milk Company.

Makes Splinters Out of Wagon.

Harry Montgomery was on the wagon and warned by the cries and loud crashes he turned his horse out of the car tracks just in time. When the Bloomfield car struck the milk wagon the latter was reduced to splinters, the horse was thrown to the street and Montgomery was hurled from his seat. The horse was not injured.

Back of the milk wagon car 2135 of the Fifth, Penn and Shady division was standing motionless and the wagon was jammed into the front of the car. Every window of the car was smashed. Both platforms of the Bloomfield car and Homestead car were telescoped, and all the windows broken. The people who were standing on the platforms were probably saved from serious injury by being hurled by the force of the collisions into the cars. The cries of the traction employes for the passengers to remain in the cars also saved many from injury, as everybody who had an opportunity to reach the platforms jumped.

The first crash was followed in quick succession by three others and people ran from all directions to the scene. The excitement stampeded the crowd and those who were carried off their feet were trampled by others in the crush. While the collisions were occurring the trolley wires snapped and fire flashed from under the car wheels. Some men attempted to get women and children away from the crowd, as it was thought the wires were about to fall.

Capt. James W. McAvoy and a squad of officers were hurried to the scene and quickly cleared the streets of people and allowed the frightened passengers to get out of the cars. After the wreckage was cleared up the people were placed on undamaged cars and sent home.

SEES PITTSBURGH AFTER FORTY YEARS' ABSENCE

BEAVER, PA., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Although living within 25 miles of Pittsburgh, Mrs. John Goll, Jr., of Bridgewater visited that city today for the first time in 40 years. She went with her daughter on a shopping and sight-seeing tour. Mrs. Goll rarely leaves her home, and it is a strange sight to see her even on the streets of Bridgewater, but retirement has not impaired her health.

DEMOCRATS BUSY IN NEW REPUBLIC

Seeking Campaign Material and Fomenting Trouble—Messages Reach State Department.

PRESIDENT ORDERS TAFT THERE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.

Agents of the Democratic party are actively engaged in Panama seeking material regarding the revolution for use in their political fight on the president.

It is also believed that enemies of the administration are taking advantage of the differences between this country and Panama and fomenting trouble for political purposes.

It was learned today that cipher dispatches from Democratic agents in Panama to the Democratic national committee had, through mistake, been sent to the state department for translation. In this manner it became conclusively known that Judge Parker's campaign committee had sent secret agents to Panama to obtain testimony in regard to the revolution to be used against the president. The president was much amused and ordered the gentlemen given full facilities.

President Roosevelt today decided to forestall the Democratic canal sensation which is threatened by Senator Culberson. It was admitted at the White House that the president always was in favor of building a canal across the isthmus, treaty or no treaty with Colombia, and that he was ready to say as much to congress when the Panama revolution came. It was, however, declared that neither the president nor his secretary, Mr Loeb, knew of any letter having been written which spoke directly of using force with Colombia.

The only private letter written by the president on the canal question was one to Albert Shaw, who wrote to President Roosevelt, suggesting that the United States was not sufficiently aggressive on the canal question and urged immediate action of some sort. The president replied to this by saying that the United States could not intrigue with Panama and in no way could it encourage a revolution.

President Roosevelt has directed Secretary of War Taft to go to Panama. In his letter to the secretary, made public today, the president directs Secretary Taft to assure Panama that this government has no idea of ever establishing a colony on the isthmus, or of asking for any further rights and privileges than are plainly and unmistakably granted in the canal treaty. Secretary Taft will go about November 14.

JUDGE PARKER ENVELOPED BY REPUBLICAN PARADERS

Access to Hotel Blocked for Time by Marchers from Madison Square Garden Meeting.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—While strolling down Fifth avenue with Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, tonight after attending dinner at the Democratic club, Judge Alton B. Parker tried to avoid a half-dozen Republican parades streaming from the Madison Square garden meeting.

Dodging was useless, however, and the Democratic presidential nominee and Mr. Murphy were enveloped by Republican legions, who, with blaring bands and lighted transparencies, blocked their access to the Hotel Seville for nearly a quarter of an hour.

TRAIN WRECKS HOUSE.

Freight Car Crashes Into Rear of an Allegheny Residence and Starts Fire.

A westbound freight train on the Fort Wayne road last night side-swiped five empties standing on a siding near Washington avenue, Allegheny, and demolished them. One of the damaged cars was thrown some distance from the tracks and crashed into the rear of the residence of William Johnson, whose home faces on Washington avenue.

An oil lamp was thrown to the floor by the shock and exploded, setting fire to the room. Johnson's wife, his aunt, Miss Ella Gill, and two other women, who were in the room, narrowly escaped injury. An alarm was sent in, but the fire was extinguished before the engine arrived. The damage to the house is placed at $500.

AMERICUS STIRS GOTHAM CROWDS

Leads Republican Parade and Receives Ovations in Street and at Meeting.

FRICK SALUTES THE MEMBERS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.

The Americus club of Pittsburgh tonight amid music and red fire, through streets crowded with cheering thousands, led the big parade from Fortieth street down Fifth avenue to the big Republican meeting at Madison Square garden. The club received a great ovation on marching into the garden.

The club arrived in Jersey City early this morning, breakfasted there, then crossed to New York and paraded to their hotel via Twenty-third street, Fifth avenue, Thirty-fourth street and Broadway. There were about 150 men in line, headed by a band. The club was given a great reception in Madison square, when passing national Republican headquarters, and also when passing national Democratic headquarters in Thirty-fourth street, opposite the Waldorf-Astoria.

It was just as the club was swinging around the corner at Fifth avenue and Thirty-fourth street that H. C. Frick of Pittsburgh was encountered coming down the avenue in his automobile. He pulled up and exchanged salutes with the members of the club until the last man had turned into Thirty-fourth street. The club disbanded at the Marlborough hotel.

The members of the club had a fine trip over. In the course of last evening some one started a boom for Councilman S. J. Wainwright for mayor, which had grown to substantial proportions by the time Jersey City was reached. Mr. Wainwright refused to do more than look pleasant when the subject was broached to him. Former Senator William Flinn, Secretary Houghton, J. G. Bennett and Roger O'Mara greeted the club at Jersey City.

OHIO FOR ROOSEVELT BY 70,000 PLURALITY

Republican Organization Sends President This Word—Moody Conveys Good News.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—President Roosevelt today received assurances from the Republican organization of Ohio that he will receive the largest plurality this year that that state ever gave a presidential candidate. The word came through Maj. F. C. Bryan, who is Senior Dick's chief assistant at headquarters in Columbus. Maj. Bryan said the plurality would reach 70,000 and probably go higher.

Attorney General Moody assured the president that Massachusetts will give a Republican plurality of not less than 50,000 votes.

REPUBLICANS BRING SUITS.

Riotous Scenes Occur at Office of New York Superintendent of Elections.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Riotous scenes this morning at the "naturalization bureau" of George W. Morgan, state superintendent of elections, were followed in the afternoon by an announcement from Governor Odell that 1,000 law suits had been begun to purge the registration lists of alleged fraudulent voters.

Persons summoned to answer charges of illegal attempt to vote caused disturbances which were quieted by policemen.

ALMOST DOUBLES CLAIM.

Inventor Blake Asks Heavily Increased Damages from the Pennsylvania Company.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The trial of the suit of Millard F. Blake against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to recover $282,250 as compensation for the use of a patented dumping car devise reached unexpected termination in the Blair county court today when Mr. Blake amended his pleadings raising the amount of his claim to $529,250. The railroad company pleaded surprise and the court then ordered a continuance of the case.

DEMOCRATS KNOW THEY NEED VOTES

Hope to Gain from Doubtful States—Guffey Expects West Virginia.

GORMAN CLAIMS MARYLAND

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—It is semi-officially stated the Democratic figures give at this time 169 votes sure for Parker, with 97 doubtful, which the Democrats say they have reasonable prospects for carrying.

Chairman Taggart, James M. Guffey of Pennsylvania; ex-Senator James Smith of New Jersey, and others have been in secret conference on the situation. Mr. Guffey today said if the election were held now West Virginia would go Democratic. Mr. Bryan will soon be making speeches there, and by constant effort for a fortnight it is hoped the state will go Democratic. Word of a similar nature was received from Senator Gorman regarding Maryland. The other state of which the Democrats feel assured is Nevada, with its three electoral votes. The solid south, Maryland, West Virginia and Nevada, make 169 electoral votes—just 70 less than is necessary to elect.

There are eight states, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware, Colorado, Montana, Indiana and Wisconsin, having a total of 97 electoral votes, from which they hope to obtain the requisite 70. Of these, New York, Colorado, Montana and New Jersey look promising if sufficient money is available for a whirlwind effort. In Indiana, Delaware and Connecticut the situation is almost as bright. Wisconsin is deemed a long chance. Although the inspired Republican estimates give Wyoming and Utah doubtful, the Democratic managers have not the slightest hope of carrying either.

From persons who have conversed privately with Judge Parker it is learned that the candidate feels sanguine of election. He does not believe that he would be elected today, but thinks the trend is in his favor and sufficiently strong to reverse conditions by election day.

SUITOR, REFUSED KISS, SHOOTS FAIR DANCER

Woman Will Die, and Murderer, Swimming River, Escapes from Pursuers.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Oct. 19.—After fatally shooting Fanny Warren in a crowded dance hall tonight, Albert Meadows made a sensational escape from the police here tonight, swimming the Ohio river and escaping into the Buckeye state. Meadows and Miss Warren attended a dance held here tonight. Meadows asked her for a kiss and, when refused, drew a revolver and shot her, the bullet taking effect in the abdomen.

Meadows had just been released from the state penitentiary for killing a woman six years ago. He made a sensational escape from the hall, the dancers, knowing his previous record, fearing to capture him. Dashing out the door, he got away from the police, and running to the river bank sprang in, hotly pursued by a mob. He swam to the Ohio side and disappeared up the river bank before his pursuers could cross the river.

CANNON'S TRIP BRINGS PEACE

Dayton and Dawson Support Each Other First Time in Speeches.

BRYAN'S POOR PLEA

Speaker of House Shows Fallacy of Mother and Son Argument.

STATEMENT FROM DAWSON

Special Telegram From
Walter J. Christy, Staff Correspondent.

GRAFTON, W. VA., Oct. 19.—Taylor county was invaded tonight by "Uncle Joe" Cannon and the home of Democratic National Committeeman John T. McGraw gave him a big ovation.

This afternoon the speaker addressed the voters in Kingwood, Preston county, the former residence of W. M. O. Dawson, the candidate for governor. Col. Dawson was in Kingwood this afternoon to meet the speaker and visit with his old friends who were attending the rally. This county is in the congressional district represented by Congressman Dayton, and he was there to look after his interests. While Preston gives a usual Republican majority and holds the banner among the counties of the state, it may not give all of the Republican candidates a plurality of this size.

There are two factions in Preston, one following Col. Dawson and the other Mr. Dayton. Unless some differences are patched there will be considerable cutting on both candidates. It was in the hope of establishing harmonious relations that Speaker Cannon was dragged up and down the Allegheny mountains this morning over the winding system of the West Virginia Northern railroad, otherwise the couple of hundred men who had the privilege of listening to Mr. Cannon this afternoon would not have had the opportunity.

Candidates Support Each Other.

It is believed that the visit had good effect, as Congressman Dayton in his speech this afternoon urged the voters to support Dawson, and Col. Dawson in a speech tonight urged them to cast their ballots for Dayton. This is the first time this has occurred this campaign. Both candidates took dinner today with Speaker Cannon and received some wholesome advice.

Col. Dawson was asked to give his opinion of the contest in the state. He admitted that 10 days ago he had a hard battle on his hands, but that since that time the voters are beginning to learn the truth about the tax laws and that the tide is now running in his favor. He made this statement:

I believe that Mr. Roosevelt will carry the state by 23,000. This is a conservative estimate. Mr. McKinley carried the state four years ago by about 21,000. This included about 2,500 gold Democrats. I do not believe that all these Democrats have returned to their party. On the contrary, I believe that at least half of them will remain Republicans. Furthermore, between the first voters this year and the new voters who have come into the state, through the opening of mills, mines and other industries, I think that we will gain 5,000 votes. I do not believe that Mr. Davis' presence on the Democratic ticket will make a difference of 250 votes in his favor. As for the state ticket, I admit it will fall between 2,000 and 3,000 below the national ticket.

Cannon Speaks from Table.

The Kingwood meeting was held in the court house yard. Speaker Cannon standing on a kitchen table while he addressed the audience of townspeople and the farmers who had come in from their buckwheat fields and chestnut groves. "Uncle Joe" gave them a heart-to-heart talk on the duty of voting the straight ticket and putting none but Republicans on guard in places of trust in the state and nation. He also took occasion to refer to the recent speech of W. J. Bryan on the mother and son. This is what the speaker said:

Mr. Bryan is coming to West Virginia to tell you that he has changed his mind regarding Judge Parker, of whom he said last spring, "I am sanguine enough to believe that I can prove to every unbiased mind that Judge Parker is not a fit man to be nominated either by the Democratic party or by any other party that stands for honesty and fair dealing in politics."

It is sentiment, not judgment, that influenced Mr. Bryan. Over in Indiana last week Mr. Bryan admitted that neither the Democratic platform nor the candidate stands for all he would have them stand, but he puts himself in the position of the mother who hopes that her baby boy will grow up to be a perfect man, and refuses to disown him when he falls short of her ideals and hope. Mr. Bryan is a wonderfully eloquent man.

Can Sympathize With Bryan.

He has unusual power in arousing the emotions of sentimental people, and we are all more or less sentimental. We can all appreciate and sympathize with Mr. Bryan, as he describes his present position in politics. There is no higher ideal of loyalty and devotion than that of mother love, which sacrifices all self-interest and all public interest in that devotion. But Mr. Bryan, suppose that boy falls in every particular and becomes all that is dishonest and disgraceful in manhood. Suppose a friend of the family has taken that boy into his employment, and after a fair trial has found him dishonest and every way unfit for such employment. We would all sympathize with the mother love, which stood by him and begged his old employer to take him back after he has been discharged for incompetency and dishonesty, but we would also respect the sober sense of the business man who said:

"No, I gave your boy a chance. I trusted him with my business and he ruined it. It has taken me years to recover from the losses I sustained by his administration of my business affairs. I listened to the voice of sentiment when I took him into my employ, but I have been forced to deal with him in sober judgment to save myself from utter ruin. I cannot again trust him, neither can I recommend him."

Will Not Accept Pathetic Plea.

Now I believe that the people of this country ought to and will answer Mr. Bryan in just that way. They will respect him for his devotion to his party, but they will not govern their action at the polls by his pathetic plea that he stands in the same position as the mother with her hopes for and her loyalty to her babe, which rise above every other circumstance and condition. Mr. Bryan's party has been tried and found disastrous and ruinous in its administration of public affairs. The people of this country rose in their might and discharged that party eight years ago. It has shown no evidence of repentance or change from its old political faith and policy. It is just as wrong in all that it stands for now as

CASH OFFERED TO GET VOTES

Powerful Lobby, However, Beaten in Fight in Common Council.

BLACKEYE FOR DEAL

Republican Minority Holds Up Hall Light Franchise and Traction Ordinances.

ANOTHER MEETING FRIDAY

The Hall and Verner syndicates with their allied interests, and backed by the power of the city administration, were unable to railroad through common council last night the Hall light ordinance and the Pittsburgh Railways Company's ordinance, although this combination was represented on the floor of council by one of the most powerful lobbies ever gathered to work in city hall. By two votes only did this combination fail to put through its measures, and then after some very exciting scenes.

Foiled last night, Verner and Director Bigelow ordered another meeting of common council, and President Ward last night issued the call for tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Hall ordinance led the way and twice was an attempt made to suspend the rules to put it through on second and third reading and final passage, and both times the vote was the same, 30 to 12. Thirty-two votes were necessary to suspend the rules.

Strong Lobby Worked Hard.

The lobby, composed of traction men, city officials, councilmen, officials of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company and others worked like beavers to change two votes. They succeeded in changing one vote, Dr. A. M. Barr, Republican member from the Eighteenth ward, but they lost one vote, John Maslowski, Citizen, of the Twenty-seventh ward.

Fully a score of councilmen were called out of the council chamber and besieged by the lobbyists. Offers of all kinds are said to have been made to get them to change their votes.

One councilman told a Gazette reporter that he had been offered $3,000 in cash for his vote.

Expects Another Offer Today.

He said he had been approached twice and expected to receive another call today. This councilman, who is of undoubted veracity, said that another councilman had urged him to "get into the deal."

Some councilmen were approached on the floor by the lobbyists. Others were taken into the mayor's office, where Murry A. Verner and Director Bigelow remained during the session. Others were taken into the large reception room adjoining the council chamber, others to the city clerk's office and into private rooms.

The most active in interviewing councilmen were Director James W. Clark, treasurer of the Hall company; S. S. Lesslie, secretary of the Hall company; J. G. Splane, president of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company; Select Councilman Louis P. Schneider, an employe of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company; Superintendent John A. Lang, Superintendent Andrew Burk, Councilmen C. W. Helmold, W. R. Bailey, A. G. Roenigk and Richard McNally.

Bailey Deserts Colleagues.

W. R. Bailey, member from the Seventeenth ward, was particularly active among his Republican colleagues, urging them to vote for the Hall ordinance, although his fellow Republicans had confidently counted on Bailey being with them. His support of the other side was a surprise to them. He not only assisted in getting votes, but he also made the motion to suspend the rules.

Select Councilman Schneider, who was working with President Splane, was instrumental in changing several votes. He is credited with getting, previous to the meeting, John Lewis, his common council colleague from the Twenty-eighth ward, and D. K. Barton of the Twenty-fifth ward. During the meeting, after the first ballot, he changed the vote of Dr. A. M. Barry.

Four Republicans voted for the deal. They were W. R. Bailey, Seventeenth ward; Dr. A. M. Barr, Eighteenth ward; D. K. Barton, Twenty-fifth ward, and John Lewis, Twenty-ninth ward.

Barr voted against the Hall ordinance on the first ballot and for it on the second ballot. After the meeting he was asked why he had changed his vote. He hesitated and then replied:

Barr's Reason for Changing.

"I changed my vote as a favor to Louis Schneider. He had done me a favor and I reciprocated."

Of the 12 members who voted against the ordinance all were Republicans except two, J. W. Rapp of the Thirty-fifth ward and John Maslowski of the Twenty-seventh ward. Rapp voted against the bill on both ballots. Maslowski voted against the bill only on the second ballot, thus offsetting Barr's vote. Otherwise the line-up was the same on both ballots. After the second ballot pressure was brought to bear on Maslowski and he sought to make amends.

It was a lively battle. William Brand, Republican, of the Seventeenth ward, led the attack and it was a point of order made by Brand at a critical moment that prevented the majority from taking a third vote and probably winning out. Brand was also industrious in keeping his men in line. Twice he followed two of them who had been called from their seats and took them away from Schneider and Splane.

The program for the meeting was to pass the Hall ordinance first and the Pittsburgh Railways Company bills afterward. This attempt confirms the reports that Verner and the administration intend to be sure of the passage of the Hall measure and use it as a club to force a deal with the Philadelphia Company on the Verner traction franchises taken from Verner last spring. The promises made to councilmen in securing votes were also based upon the signing of the Hall ordinance by the mayor, which

MEN WHO WERE QUITE BUSY IN COMMON COUNCIL CHAMBER

Murry A. Verner, head of the Verner traction syndicate and one of the chief promoters of the deal entered into between the Verner syndicate on one side and the Hall traction syndicate on the other.

E. M. Bigelow, director of the department of public works and a promoter of the Verner-Hall deal.

J. G. Splane, president of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone company, which is owned by the Hall interests.

James W. Clark, director of charities and treasurer of the Hall company.

S. S. Lesslie, secretary of the Hall company.

Louis P. Schneider, select councilman from the Twenty-ninth ward and an employe of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone company.

John A. Long, superintendent of the bureau of city property and a Bigelow lieutenant.

Andrew Burk, superintendent of the bureau of construction and a Bigelow lieutenant.

W. R. Bailey, a Republican common councilman from the Seventeenth ward.

A. G. Roenigk, Citizens common councilman from the Twentieth ward, a personal and political friend of Director James W. Clark.

C. W. Helmold, Citizens councilman from the Twentieth ward and a friend of Director Clark.

Richard McNally, Citizens common councilman from the Thirteenth ward and a Bigelow representative.

Robert H. Douglas, Citizens select councilman from the Twenty-first ward, and former leader of the new combine in select council.

strengthens the belief that if the Philadelphia Company agrees to a deal with Verner the Hall light ordinance will be vetoed by the mayor.

The first motion made last night was by J. W. Hughes to suspend the rules and put the Duquesne light ordinance on second and third readings and final passage. Brand called for the ayes and noes. The vote was as follows:

Ayes—Bailey, Barton, Boulet, Bright, Collins, Crumlisher, Dengler, Finerty, Hammer, Helmold, Hughes, Joyce, Kalchthaler, Lewis, Maslowski, Mathews, McKelvey, McNally, O'Brien, Pfannkuch, Porter, Roenigk, Scott, Sherkan, Simon, Taylor, Wallace, Walls, Zeuger, President Ward—30.

Noes—Barr, Bergmann, Brand, Gibbon, Girdwood, Johns, Hohne, Martin, McKnight, Perry, Rapp, Schneebeck—12.

President Ward announced that the rules had not been suspended. Then the lobbyists got to work and for half an hour there was confusion in the council chamber, lobbyists scurrying to and fro among the members. Finally, when they believed the two additional votes needed had been secured, a motion was made to reconsider the former action of the body, and this motion was carried by a majority vote. Then W. R. Bailey moved to suspend the rules on the Hall ordinance. Brand again called for the ayes and nays and the vote still stood 30 to 12.

Barr had changed from no to aye and Maslowski from aye to no. After a short interval Maslowski moved to reconsider action on the ordinance.

"I rise to a point of order," called out Brand.

"State your point of order," said President Ward.

"The rules of this council, on page 46 of our annual, provide that action on a bill cannot be reconsidered twice at one meeting," stated Brand.

"The gentleman's point of order is well taken," announced President Ward.

This was a shock to the majority. Select Councilman P. H. Douglas, former leader of the opposition to the administration in select council, stood by the side of Councilman McNally and Superintendent Long, coaching them. He urged McNally to appeal from Ward's decision, but McNally lacked the nerve.

Roenigk Broke Ranks.

The farthest that McNally would go was to move to "call up" the light bill, and President Ward ruled this motion out of order. The same motion was made by J. J. McKelvey, who said to President Ward, "I believe you are wrong."

Ward, however, sustained Brand and ruled that the bill could not be reconsidered again at that session.

Motion after motion was made by the opposition to adjourn and defeated every time until A. G. Roenigk broke the ranks by asking leave to retire. This was granted and McNally then moved to adjourn, which was carried.

A motion was made to suspend the rules to pass the traction ordinances, but it was defeated by a vote of 38 to 4.

Director Bigelow was asked, as he came out of the mayor's office after the meeting, what he thought of the situation, and he replied, "Just what I thought at first. We will win."

Not only were the Hall and traction ordinances held up last night, but also about 20 bills from the finance committee, including transfers amounting to about $75,000, and about a dozen bills messaged from select council. They failed of passage for lack of a three-fourths vote to suspend the rules.

ROCKY ROAD TRAVELED BY HALL COMPANY ORDINANCE

The Duquesne Light company ordinance, the bone of contention in common council last night, is the same measure, with the 5 per cent compensation clause cut out, introduced in the last councils and which failed of passage because the Verner people, supported by the city administration, violated its agreement with the Hall company, the Duquesne light franchise being the property of the Hall company. This ordinance was reintroduced when the new councils came into power, the Hall company reinserting in it the compensation feature and offering this as a special inducement for its passage.

The ordinance reposed in the corporations committee until the deal with Verner and the administration was made, and then it was suddenly reported into select council, where the compensation clause was the second time stricken out at the meeting on Monday and the ordinance passed by the combined votes of the administration and Hall councilmen. It was messaged to select council last night.

The ordinances of the Pittsburgh Railways company, which were also held up last night by the votes of the administration members after the failure to railroad through the Duquesne light ordinance, are as follows:

Federal Street and Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway company, for loops in Seventh avenue, New Grant street to Liberty avenue and in Grant street from Seventh to Sixth avenue.

Second Avenue Passenger Railway company, for connecting line in Grant street, between Second avenue and Water street.

Morningside Street Railway company, for cross-town line from Butler street to the East End.

SCHOONER WRECKED; SEVEN ARE DROWNED

Five Others Compelled to Do Without Food and Water for Five Days.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WEST PALM BEACH, FLA., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The Melrose, a three-masted English schooner, was literally pounded to pieces by the waves between Thursday afternoon and Monday night during a severe storm, with a loss of seven lives and intense suffering for five others, who were without food and water for five days, until the vessel was blown ashore.

Among the victims was Mrs. Hallen, a large property owner in Florida. Charles H. Weller of Nassau, and wife, clung to the rigging, but a breaking mast knocked Mrs. Weller overboard.

KING GEORGE AT REST.

Remains of Saxony's Ruler Buried With Imposing Ceremonies—Kaiser William an Attendant.

DRESDEN, Oct. 19.—With cannon booming and with volleys of musketry outside, and with Emperor William, King Frederick August, Archduke Franz Ferdinand and other royal personages the catafalque bearing the remains of the late King George of Saxony was tonight lowered into the vault of the Catholic court church. When the red velvet covered casket beneath the black baldachin was no longer visible a mighty choir composed of church and opera singers burst forth with the "Salve Regina." After the singing of the "Miserere" Bishop Waschansky consecrated the remains according to the ritual of the Roman Catholic church, after which "Profundis" was sung.

The court preacher, Dr. Kummers, spoke feelingly of the late King George's heroism in suffering, which, he said, more than doubled the laurels won in war.

CANNON BRINGS PEACE

it was when the American people discharged it eight years ago. Mr. Bryan in his position as parent to this wayward child must stand by it. But you have no right to allow his emotions to sway your judgment. His vicious, incompetent and stubborn child refuses to learn and refuses to die. It cannot be allowed to rule this country. Let Mr. Bryan understand that this campaign of the American people is a campaign of sober judgment, and not one of mere sentiment. The time has passed when the people can be moved by merely putting the air in vibration, even when that vibration is caused by a man of eloquence like Mr. Bryan. I do not believe that Mr. Bryan can with his appeal to the devotion of mother-love, lead you people away from your own deliberate judgment, and it is to the deliberate judgment of every man in this country the Republican party appeals.

Congressmen Bede and Dayton then spoke. Col. Dawson addressed a meeting tonight.

The Grafton meeting tonight was held in the opera house. The building was not large enough to accommodate the crowd. Congressmen Cannon, Bede and Dayton made speeches.

DEMOCRATS FOR ROOSEVELT.

Wisconsin Office Holders in Washington Hear Votes Will Be Gained from the Opposition.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Assistant Attorney General L. A. Pradt, who comes from Wisconsin, says that information from Wisconsin makes him feel sure that it will choose Roosevelt electors.

Wisconsin office holders here report a considerable Democratic defection to Roosevelt in that state, which, it is thought, would go far to offset losses which might occur from trading electoral support between the Republican factions.

Irwin to Remain Unopposed.

CLEARFIELD, PA., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The Democratic conferees of the Thirty-fourth senatorial district, which is composed of Center, Clearfield and Clinton counties, met here today and decided not to name a candidate for senator in place of former Congressman James Kerr, who declined the nomination, deeming it inadvisable to name a candidate so close to the approach of the election. Candidate Irwin, Republican, will thus have no opposition.

Democrats May Indorse Burton.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 19.—Edmund G. Vail, Democratic candidate for congress in the Twenty-first district, today tendered his resignation from the ticket. The Democratic congressional committee will meet tomorrow to take action on Mr. Vail's resignation. Chairman Excell declared today that he favored the indorsement by the Democrats of the Hon. T. E. Burton, the Republican candidate for re-election.

Parker Guest at Dinner.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Judge Parker was the guest of honor tonight at a dinner given by State Senator Victor J. Dowling, at the Democratic club. The other guests were John B. McDonald, John Fox, Charles F. Murphy, Cord Meyer, and William S. Rodie. Gen. Nelson A. Miles called on Judge Parker today.

READY TO GIVE UP PORT ARTHUR

City Is in Ruins and Residents Have No Coal and Little Food.

WARSHIPS REPORTED SUNK

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

CHEFOO, Oct. 19.—News reaches here today that the garrison at Port Arthur has practically given up hope of rescue, and that while the commanding officers have made up their minds to fight to the last and sell the lives of themselves and their men to the Japanese at the highest possible cost, there is a steadily growing element in the garrison which favors the giving up of the hopeless struggle in order to save the men from the danger of a massacre if the place is finally taken by storm.

The town is practically in ruins, the Japanese shells searching out every portion of it, as well as all parts of the harbor. An unconfirmed report is that two or more of the warships have been sunk at anchor by the Japanese shells. The supply of ammunition is almost exhausted and there is practically no coal and little food. When the cold weather sets in, which it will do now or within a few weeks, the garrison is in great danger of freezing as well as of starving.

Japanese Falling Back.

MUKDEN, Oct. 19.—Yesterday passed off quietly. No firing was heard last night. The Japanese appear to be slowly falling back. A glare seen above their encampments may indicate that they are burning their stores prior to withdrawal. This morning broke chilly, but clear. As soon as the road become more dry a resumption of the battle is probable, as the Russians everywhere are in close touch with the Japanese.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—The emperor has received from Gen. Kuropatkin, under date of October 18, the following dispatch:

"During the night the Japanese attacked our advanced positions at Lone Tree hill, but they were repulsed. No reports have been received of any other engagements. Everything was quiet at all our positions up to 10 o'clock this morning. Rain fell all night and the roads have been greatly damaged."

Armies Changing Base.

There is evidence of a new disposition of the forces on both sides. Gen. Kuropatkin is extending his right, whether with a view to a turning movement for the safety of Lone Tree hill, the importance of which point is fully realized by the Japanese, who have attempted to retake it by two night attacks, or whether to meet and thwart a Japanese turning movement from the west, has not yet developed. The Japanese also appear to be shifting weight to the westward.

Veiled hints continue to arrive that the Russians have recovered from the blow inflicted last week by Field Marshal Oyama and that Gen. Kuropatkin is preparing to renew the struggle as soon as the roads become dry.

TOKYO, Oct. 19.—(6 p. m.)—The Japanese government decided today to draw the attention of the Russian government to the unlawful action of Russian troops in using Chinese costumes. The notice will be served through the American state department, which will transmit it through the American embassy at St. Petersburg.

CONTEST GETS INTO COURT.

Democrats May Be Without a Congressional Candidate in the Twenty-Sixth District.

HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—If the counties of Carbon, Pike, Monroe and Northampton, which constitute the Twenty-sixth congressional district, are entitled to three conferees each in the Democratic conference, then the certificate of nomination of J. Davis Broadhead of Bethlehem, who claims to be the regular Democratic nominee, is invalid and the party has no legal candidate. If, on the other hand, the first three counties are entitled to three conferees each and Northampton to five conferees, then Mr. Broadhead's certificate is valid. On this hinges the contest instituted by Congressman Joseph B. Shull of Stroudsburg.

Mr. Shull was recently nominated by the six conferees from Monroe and Pike counties and Mr. Broadhead by three conferees from Carbon county and five from Northampton. When the case was called for trial in the Dauphin county court today Shull's attorneys admitted that his certificate was invalid because he had not received a majority vote of the conferees. The case probably will drag along for two or three days.

CHARGED WITH TREACHERY.

Altoona City Democratic Committee Balks at Candidacy of Thomas H. Greevy.

ALTOONA, PA., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—A severe blow to the Democratic-Fusion movement was given last night by the Democratic city executive committee when that body resolved to antagonize Thomas H. Greevy, Democratic-Fusion nominee for state senator. The committee issued a declaration strongly arraigning Greevy as a traitor to Bryan in 1896 and 1900 and to other Democrats in local contests. The committee concludes with praises for the wisdom and honesty of principle displayed by James P. Bartley for exposing Greevy and indorses S. J. Albright and E. F. Curfman, the Democratic nominees for the offices of register and recorder and poor directors. The statement has caused a sensation in local political circles.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—For the first time in the history of the Cramps Shipbuilding Company a detail of marines from League island is on constant duty in the yard to guard the battleship Connecticut and the cruiser Pennsylvania against any attempt to injure the ships. This action was taken in consequence of the recent attempts to disable the Connecticut at the Brooklyn navy yard.

CHURCHMEN TO TRY WALLACE CASE AGAIN

Western Synod Names Committee to Investigate Troublesome Litigation.

GREENVILLE, PA., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—At the afternoon session of the First synod of the west, of the United Presbyterian church at Jamestown, Dr. A. G. Wallace of the board of church extension reported the board was unable to meet the demands of the mission congregations the last year, but endeavored to provide a sufficient amount to give a fairly adequate equipment. The appropriations made amounted to $38,600 in contributions and $13,750 in loans. The Rev. R. H. Park presided at the morning session, the first work of which was the election of the Rev. G. W. McDonald of the Seventh church, Alleghany, moderator. Dr. J. W. Witherspoon of Allegheny made an address on the negro question. The Wallace case was brought up by the Rev. H. G. McVey, pastor of the Jamestown church, who detailed the difficulties due to the civil suit pending against the congregation, in which the Rev. Mr. Wallace, the deposed pastor, claims the amouunt of his salary. If he should win his case the entire property of the Jamestown church would be swept away to liquidate the salary from the time of his deposition up to the present. A committee was appointed to investigate the matter. A report was made by the committee on the semi-centennial of Westminster college, which will be held in 1908. The total endowment of the college is $142,600 00.

AKRON, O., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The first work of the Ohio Baptist convention began this morning. President C. T. Lewis of Toledo delivered his annual address and the Rev. J. W. Wedell of Cincinnati preached the annual sermon. The report of the board of managers showed that $15,000 had been raised among Ohio Baptists during the year past.

TEACHERS WERE VICTIMS.

Alleged Fraudulent Collectors for Unemployed Workingmen Plied Their Artifices in Schools of This City.

Edward Frank and Harry King were arrested yesterday near the Lincoln school and taken to the Frankstown avenue station house charged with collecting money under false pretense. The men have been soliciting among school teachers for money for workmen of various labor organizations who are unemployed.

The men had a number of subscription lists which they used in soliciting. One was for the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, others for the moulders association, carpenters and joiners, plumbers association, electrical workers and other organizations. When arrested they had $244 15. Detectives Richard Kelly and William Riley learned the men were working among the schools on the South Side Tuesday. Kelly notified Superintendent Samuel Andrews of the public schools, who in turn notified the principals of the various schools of the city. While a description of the men was being sent to the Hazelwood school King was in the building, but left before the officers arrived.

In the afternoon the men went to the Lincoln school. Mary McCutcheon, a teacher, recognized them from the description given by Superintendent Andrews, and sent word to the Frankstown avenue station house. Again they left before the officers arrived, but the police traced them and placed them under arrest. The men are well known to the police, having practiced the same method of swindling before. Frank is also known as David Corbett, and King as Harry Hengly.

FINAL DAYS FIND BIG ROOSEVELT ODDS

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

Mr. Marshall stated he had $8,100 to bet at the same odds on the result in this state. In Wall street odds on the general result of the election continued at 4 to 1 that Roosevelt will win. A bet of $2,000 to 5500 was made in the curb market, Allen McGraw & Co. taking the Roosevelt end of the wager and Max Borg the short end on Parker.

CONDUCTOR PAUR GLAD HE IS HERE

Leader of Pittsburgh Orchestra Arrived Last Night After Bombardment of Flutes.

BEGINS REHEARSAL MONDAY

"I am so glad to be in Pittsburgh," announced Conductor Emil Paur of the Pittsburgh orchestra, as he stepped from the Pennsylvania Limited in Union station at 9 o'clock last night. "For four days I have heard nothing but flutes, flutes, flutes, with their incessant pipings in my ear. Oh! It is such a relief, even in the midst of these shrieking locomotives."

Owing to the illness of the second flute of the orchestra Mr. Paur was requested to select a musician for this position while in New York, and for four days previous to his departure had listened to continued rehearsals of aspirants to the position. Mr. Culp, a soloist, was finally selected.

As Conductor Paur stepped from the train he was met by George H. Wilson, manager of the orchestra, and Luigi von Kunits, concertmeister of the organization.

"It pleases me greatly to become a Pittsburgher," announced Mr. Paur to The Gazette, "although I am pleased to know that my home is to be removed from the smoke belt. Monday we begin rehearsals and I sincerely trust there will no noises interfere with us, as I understand the music hall is being remodeled. Pittsburgh appreciates good music and has a taste for the best. I realized this on my last visit here, four years ago, when I played at the exposition. I had been playing light music, at the request of the management, when one day I received a letter from a lady informing me not to be deluded into the belief that Pittsburgh audiences did not appreciate classic music. 'Just play one or two symphonies for me, won't you?' was the request, and the letter was also subscribed by several other ladies. I was so pleased at the incident that I have preserved the letter ever since."

Mr. Paur states that the musical season in New York is exceptionally promising, but contends that public tastes for classic music cannot be cultivated there as readily as in a city supporting permanent orchestras, where the men are constantly under strict supervision and wherein all must be capable.

"I do not believe conductors should be composers," said Mr. Paur. "They are rarely successful in both capacities. Strauss is one of the great exceptions, and he is like a dropping star out of a cloudy sky. Orchestra leaders seldom can be original with so many of the masters' efforts continually coursing through their minds, and when I say they cannot be successful composers, I mean, of course, of orchestral music. I have done but little composing and do not intend to present any of my own compositions, at least not for a year or more."

Mr. Paur will make his home at 210 Bellefield avenue, in the same building wherein Manager Wilson has an apartment.

He will not be a candidate for the Republican nomination when the term expires. William B. Kirker, acting prothonotary, expects to get the appointment and will be a candidate for the nomination.

DR. GARVIN IS MODERATOR.

Pittsburgh Synod of the United Presbyterian Church Hears Report on Mission Work During Past Year.

INDIANA, PA., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The Rev. J. S. Garvin, Ph. D., of West Newton, Pa., was today elected moderator for the Pittsburgh synod of the United Presbyterian church in session here. There are 150 ministers and 60 laymen present, representing 190 congregations. The morning session was largely devoted to the election of a moderator. The Rev. C. Watson of Philadelphia, corresponding secretary of foreign missions, told of the work done by his society. The Rev. Alexander Gilchrist of Pittsburgh, corresponding secretary of home missions, also addressed the synod. He was followed by the Rev. J. T. McCrory of Pittsburgh, who talked on the work of church extension. The afternoon session was devoted to discussing reports of committees.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Oct. 19.—The first meeting of the newly created Presbyterian synod of West Virginia is in session here. There are 45 ministers and over 7,000 members in the new synod. Rev. Dr. J. H. Flanagan of Grafton was chosen moderator; Dr. A. M. Buchanan of Morgantown, stated clerk and treasurer; the Rev. J. L. Lyeberger of Wheeling, permanent clerk, and the Rev. Walter B. Sterrett of Elizabeth, temporary clerk. Addresses were made tonight by the Rev. Dr. John C. Ely of Washington, Pa.; the Rev. Dr. J. C. Worden of Philadelphia, and Mrs. E. A. Boole of the women's board of missions.

CREIGHTON LOSES PLANT.

Trimblin Engine and Foundry Company Will Move to Avonmore.

The stockholders of the Trimblin Engine and Foundry Company have decided to accept the offer made by the Avonmore (Pa.) residents and the works will be moved there. The stock will be increased $50,000.

A few weeks ago the company voted to increase its capital and build a new plant, the Creighton plant being inadequate. They asked the people of Parentum and Creighton to subscribe for stock, but were not successful. The offer from Avonmore gives them six acres of land, 600 feet of siding and $10,000 subscribed stock.

WANTS TO SUE JUDGES FOR ATTEMPTED KIDNAPING

Mrs. Sarah McCoy, who recently appeared in the county courts as her own attorney, applied in the office of Clerk H. D. Gamble of the United States circuit court yesterday, for the purpose of filing a suit against Judge Charles F. McKenna of the United States district court of Porto Rico, and several other judges, charging attempted kidnaping, conspiracy and postoffice robbery. She says defendants conspired to steal her son. She was referred to District Attorney James Young, who in turn referred her to Postoffice Inspector Frank A. Brien, and in turn to the city postmaster.

MAYOR HAYS WAS 60 YEARS OLD YESTERDAY

Mayor Hays was 60 years old yesterday. The chief executive of the city celebrated the event quietly by remaining in his office and attending to routine business, also discussing the traction deal with Murry Verner and Director Bigelow, and the prospect of putting it through common council in the evening. The only recognition of the mayor's birthday was a large bunch of chrysanthemums, which were sent with the compliments of Mr. Verner.

Commissioners Leave for Synod.

Western Pennsylvania commissioners to the meeting of the Pennsylvania synod, which will be held at Oxford, left yesterday morning for the east. There were about 40 in the party. The Pittsburgh presbytery will be represented by eight ministers and as many laymen, and all were in the party which went out yesterday morning but William C. Lilley, who departed later for Philadelphia. One of the most important matters to come before the synod is that of settling the question of boundaries between the several presbyteries.

Wilmerding Man Instantly Killed.

James L. Purry, aged 21, of Wilmerding, was struck and instantly killed by a passenger train on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, near Eleventh street, McKeesport, at 10:38 o'clock last night. Purry was walking along the track with Joseph Meyers of Wilmerding and Florance Walters and Mary Kessler, both of McKeesport. The survivors jumped out of the way of a shifting engine, while Purry became confused and stepped in front of the passenger train.

Must Not Fight Any More.

Chief Engineer Henry Brehm of the Montrose pumping station, and his assistant, William Shaw, who were suspended for participating in a fist fight two weeks ago, will return to work today. Mayor Wyman rebuked both men and instructed Superintendent Bennie of the bureau of water to put them to work again. Brehm sent his resignation to Mayor Wyman immediately after being suspended, but was prevailed upon to reconsider.

TRUSTEE CHINN IS SAD AND SILENT

Bethel Official Board Orders Him to Hold His Peace for Three Months.

STORM SLOWLY PASSING OVER

While "Broadaxe" Smith poured oil on the troubled waters at the Bethel church last evening, the Rev. W. S. Lowry saw that no person stuck a match in the oil by silencing Trustee Hiram Chinn for three months.

There were two sessions, the first a meeting of the official board and the second a meeting of the congregation in prayer service. The first was stormy, but the enti-Lee faction won out.

There were no storms until the official board met in the anti room. Then there were charges and countercharges thick and fast. But the Rev. Mr. Lowry had succeeded in getting a majority of the board with him. For the good of the church and in the interests of peace he considered it best to silence Trustee Chinn for three months. Chinn vehemently objected, but the majority of the board stood by the pastor and the mandate went forth. In prayer meeting, in classmeeting, on the streets, for the next three months, Trustee Chinn's voice must not be raised in the affairs of Bethel church. It was a hard blow, but he said:

"When the three months are up I'm going to make it warm for somebody. I can talk then and we'll take up the fight."

In the prayer meeting "Broadaxe" Smith was doing his best to calm the troubled waters while the board was holding its stormy session. They sang, "A Charge to Keep I Have." And then "Broadaxe" Smith started in. He said:

"I love this old church. This church picked me out of the gutter and put clothes on my back. It made a man of me. It did the same for a lot more of you, but you're too proud to 'fess up. If this church was good enough for me when I came out of the gutter, all over mud, don't you s'pose it's good enough for me now. Just because we're havin' a little trouble here you think I'm goin' to leave this church? No, sir. I'm goin' to live right here. I'm goin' to die right here. And I'm goin' to be buried from this altar, right here. This old church is going to keep right on livin'. The Almighty has a use for old Bethel. You people get right down on your knees and pray and this trouble'll come out all right. Stay on yore feet and keep on a-fightin' and it'll never end."

During the day things were stormy about the church. The trustees have had it locked up and refused to turn it over to the Rev. Mr. Lowry. Yesterday afternoon he went to the church, accompanied by three of the trustees, Thomas Munroe, B. W. Tribue and Robert Brady, and burst in the library door.

Trustee Chinn objected and went before Alderman B. C. Barton and charged the four men with forcible entry. They were arrested and two constables placed on guard. Later Chinn withdrew the informations. As reason for his action he said that he saw he was whipped. Mr. Lowry had the majority of the official board with him and Chinn was going to work for the success of the church. At the meeting last night a couple of city policemen were in attendance, but there was no disorder.

BELLEVUE'S NEW SCHOOL.

Elaborate Arrangements Made for Laying the Corner Stone on Saturday.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the laying of the corner stone of the Grant school house in Bellevue, at 2 o'clock next Saturday afternoon. The exercises will be under the auspices of the grand lodge of Free Masons, the principal speaker being the Rev. T. J. Leak, the newly installed pastor of the Bellevue Methodist Episcopal church. The Bellevue lodge of Masons will march to the site in a body.

The building will be erected by B. A. Groah & Co. from plans by Architect W. J. Shaw. It will have three frontages, in Grant and Bryant streets and Jefferson avenue. The walls will be of Indiana limestone, Roman brick and terra cotta. The building will contain nine class rooms and two manual training rooms, and will cost about $50,000.

Agents Are Held for Court.

W. A. Brunton and J. W. Swingle, agents for the Progressive Beneficial association, were held for court by Magistrate Stewart yesterday. Mrs. Marie L. Whittaker alleged she had been a member of the association for three years and paid her dues regularly. She was taken ill last August and made an application for her sick benefits, which Brunton and Swingle refused to pay.

CONSIDERING CITY'S NEEDS.

President Joseph Ramsey of the Wabash Studies Plans for Improvements.

President Joseph Ramsey of the Wabash railroad spent another day in Pittsburgh looking over the situation. He held a conference with local officials and discussed plans for such construction work as will be beneficial to the Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad Company. The contract for the freight depot was not awarded.

The work at Rook station was inspected yesterday and the officials are pleased with the progress made. President Ramsey refused to discuss the plans for entering McKeesport. He stated that the West Side Belt property had not been formally turned over to the Wabash interests.

Today Boys' High-Grade Apparel for Much Below Regular.

Suits—Overcoats—Waists.

Is $2.00 worth saving on a Boy's high-class Overcoat or Reefer? Is $1.50 worth saving on a stylish Buster Brown or Sailor Suit for the little lad, or an up-to-date Norfolk for a larger boy? When the garments are strictly correct in every way, as in this instance, such a saving is clear gain, and as such welcome to her or him whose duty and pleasure it is to provide for the boys of the household.

Thursday, October 20, 1904.

Since Mayor Hays has decided to order an election for councilman in the Seventeenth ward to succeed Workhouse Superintendent Leslie at the general election in November, what excuse can he offer for not ordering an election at the same time to fill the vacancy in the Twenty-second ward, caused by the resignation of City Treasurer John F. Steel? There is no apparent difference in the cases so far as the public is concerned. There is no reason why the expense of a special election should be incurred for the Twenty-second ward when a councilman can be elected as well in November.

Another robbery at the Cheswick postoffice revives recollections of the series of burglaries of last winter and the early spring, obviously the work of a gang sheltered in one of the Greater Pittsburgh cities. Following the suggestion of The Gazette that it was the duty of the city police to break up these gangs, or to see that they did not find asylum in the populous centers while preying upon the suburban towns, there was a notable decrease in the safe breakings in this region. There has been a period of comparative quiet, but now there are signs that another winter campaign is beginning. What are the city police and detectives going to do about it? It is not a matter to be neglected. Criminals of this stripe can be found when hunted in earnest.

An advance of 75 cents a ton in the price of Bessemer pig, following the advance in the pipe list, is further significant of changed conditions. Months ago it was noted in these columns that consumers of iron and steel products were holding back orders in the hope that prices would be reduced. In some measure their hopes were realized. Moderate reductions were made in some lines, and this has started a buying movement. Other orders cannot be longer withheld and before the end of the year it is likely to be a race to see who can get orders placed for early delivery, without much regard for price. There is no uncertainty about the approaching election to assist in checking the movement.

The president of the new republic of Panama can hardly be unmindful of the consideration accorded him by the action of the United States in sending down a member of the cabinet to hear any grievances he may wish to present and to assure him that it is not the purpose of this country to take advantage of any treaty rights we may possess to interfere with the welfare and prosperity of his state. While diplomatic missions are undertaken by high administrative officials in Europe, it is not often that a member of the president's cabinet is chosen for the purpose. The selection of Mr. Taft, however, is eminently fitting, for he has proved his ability as a negotiator, who could maintain our rights and still placate conflicting interests. His task in the disposal of the Friar lands question in the Philippines was a triumph which brought credit upon this country as the custodian of the islands, and gave him a deserved reputation. It is particularly desirable that the United States make every endeavor to keep the good-will of the Panama republic, especially as the circumstances under which the treaty was secured have been made the subject of such bitter attacks.

The Japanese government has decided to address a formal remonstrance to Russia through our government as to the use by Russian troops of Chinese costumes. Instances are given of cases in which Russian sharpshooters approached the Japanese lines wearing Chinese costumes so as to hide their military character. The remonstrance calls attention to the fact that such conduct violates the laws of war and is particularly reprehensible in the present conflict fought upon Chinese soil, because it exposes peaceful inhabitants to the danger of being mistaken for Russians in disguise. Other nations might well join with Japan in a protesting against such unlawful acts, as they are an aggression upon Chinese rights. In the case of spies, they may assume any disguise, subject to the death penalty if caught. That risk is understood and accepted by spies, but if troops attired in Chinese costumes were treated as spies by the Japanese such action would be condemned as barbarious, although justified by the laws of war. If such unlawful practices are persisted in the only safe course for the Japanese to pursue will be to issue warnings to the people not to go in groups and then fire upon any approaching body of men however attired. The disregard of international obligations by Russia, which is the true cause of the war, clings to Russia's conduct of the war.

The failure of the Dutch government to take advantage of the $1,500,000 given for a peace temple and begin plans for its erection is causing some comment. There is a discussion over the site, and it is hardly likely that much progress will have been made on the structure before the next peace convention meets at The Hague. It is whispered that one cause of the delay is the pressure of the powers, who think this an inopportune time to press the peace issue. A more plausible excuse is the dilatoriness of the Dutch and their satisfaction to let the matter rest so long as the money is drawing a good rate of interest. Attention is called to the fact that the fund given the Dutch government by the prince of Monaco for the erection of a monument was allowed to lie idle for 20 years until the interest itself was sufficient to build the memorial. But there is international interest in the peace temple, and public sentiment will hardly tolerate long delay for technical reasons.

A Check in Common Council.

Notwithstanding the pulling and hauling of a large band of lobbyists, the latest franchise deal could not be gotten through common council last night, although the jobbers had the assistance of some recreant Republicans. The test vote was upon suspending the rules to put through the Duquesne Light Company's franchise, but although two attempts were made the motion was lost, the vote standing 30 to 12, being less than the necessary majority of three-fourths. The opposition to the motion was led by Republicans, who cast 10 of the negative votes, the other two being cast by members of the Citizens party. The four Republicans who voted for the suspension of the rules were W. R. Bailey of the Seventeenth ward, David K. Barton of the Twenty-fifth ward, John Lewis of the Twenty-eighth ward, and Dr. A. M. Barr of the Eighteenth ward.

When it was found that a three-fourths majority could not be secured to carry through the deal, the street railway ordinances were laid aside after a first reading, but council is to meet again on Friday and the effort will be renewed. The whole business is a shameful violation of party pledges and of public duty. The city is entitled to compensation for these valuable franchises, and there would not be any difficulty about getting it did councils represent the interests of the community, instead of acting as the agents of the corporations.

Fought to a Standstill.

The contending armies in Manchuria appear to have suspended their activity through sheer exhaustion. The Russians are encouraged by the fact that they have been able to stay the Japanese counter-offensive and have been able to hold their positions along the lines upon which their shattered columns have been reformed. The size of the situation appears to be that Gen. Kuropatkin has again demonstrated his steadfastness and energy in the presence of disaster, but the advance of the Russians has been repulsed and the question now is whether they will be able to hold Mukden. The two armies are in touch, the Shahke river being the dividing line. Reinforcements are being brought forward on both sides and it may be expected that when the waste of the recent fighting has been repaired another general engagement will take place. The prominence given in the dispatches to the turning movement contemplated by the Russian left exaggerates the importance of the maneuver. It strikes at Japanese communications with the Yalu, which ceased to be the main base after the capture of Niuchwang. Even should the Russian movement be successful it would only drive the Japanese back to the south and west in the direction of their present base and upon the support of the center and right wing. At the beginning of the Russian advance the Japanese voluntarily gave ground on their own right, which was too far extended in view of the fact that the Russians had assumed the offensive. The Russians have met with some success against the Japanese in their defensive operations, but nothing to compensate them for the losses sustained in their previous attacks. So far the Russians have been unable to defeat the Japanese and the Japanese have been unable to rout the Russians, although defeating them in every pitched battle. There is as yet no signs when the appalling carnage will be terminated by a decisive victory.

Lawlessness Ignored by Judge Parker.

While Judge Parker is needlessly distressing himself about the condition of the Filipinos, who are enjoying just, humane and considerate government and who are making rapid progress under it, there is ample occasion for his charitable solicitude and judicial concern right here at home. Unless the deeper tinge of their color excludes them from the range of Judge Parker's sympathies the condition of the southern negroes presents a real problem, which calls for solution, whereas the Philippine question is fictitious. The negroes are denied not merely their constitutional rights, but the elementary duties of government are neglected in their case. Opinions may differ as to the expediency of conferring upon any colored race rights and privileges which form a part of the constitutional morality of the Anglo-Saxon race and which appear to be of questionable value apart from that connection, but there can be no dissent from the proposition that every people are entitled to good government and have an absolute right to the protection of the laws. It is a notorious fact that these elementary rights are denied to the negro race and it certainly wears the appearance of disgusting hypocrisy when a distinguished publicist can sit down in his study and compose a fervent appeal to national sympathy in behalf of the Filipinos, suffering under a purely sentimental grievance if any, while at that very time the groans of dying negroes shot down by mobs of Judge Parker's own supporters may have been going up to heaven crying for vengeance.

In proof of the existence of this condition of affairs we may cite the admission of southern papers. The Atlanta Constitution in a recent article said that "the south—the Democratic section, the stronghold of Democracy—is in danger of becoming more famous for its lynchings than its literature." As showing the trivial motives which are now sufficient to incite mob-murder, the Constitution relates the following:

"The Talbot mob started out to find some negro men and one negro woman who had, upon the talk of an entirely irresponsible negro woman who was fired by jealousy of the other woman, been charged with making threats against life and propecty; those who were so charged had been haled to court, the charge against them thoroughly investigated and found to be utterly groundless. Mobs having been made the fashion by their defenders, a few drunken men set out to find the persons who had been proven innocent. What was the result? Failing to find those whom they sought, the members of that mob shot two innocent negroes who had never been mentioned even by the evil gossiper."

Intelligent public opinion in the south is alarmed by this matter and is bestirring itself in a way that will probably have some effect. The practical question has been raised whether the south can afford the continuance of such lawlessness, and this alone will prompt remedial action, but meanwhile what a spectacle of astonishing effrontery is presented by southern leaders raving upon the stump about lawlessness which does not exist, while not saying a word about that which really exists, and for Judge Parker to be expatiating about a denial of political rights which is mere sentimental pretense with not a word to say about the only denial of political rights which actually exists, that which is maintained by his own party.

The Spineless Kind.

There are a lot of Democrats now living who will be utterly forgotten long before the name of Andrew Jackson loses its charm. They are of the spineless kind. There is a sort of cucumber that is advertised in the nursery catalogues as "spineless." It is said to be a good thing to make pickles of. Laid up in a good stiff brine it acquires a bad odor and a brackish taste that is supposed to recommend it to a man who may be feeling rather ragged the morning after, or it may suit as a relish preliminary to a dose of raw oysters. Thus the spineless cucumber is of some use in the world. It is spineless because it has been bred that way for a purpose.

It is different with the spineless Democrat. He is a thing without principles and too mean to stand by those formulated for him by his party convention. He would admit anything likely to give him a chance to hold office. A good bit of this has been noticed during the current campaign in various quarters in the midst of the effort to get the wings of the Democracy to flap together, and lest there be misapprehension as to the particular application it should be stated these reflections apply to the campaign in the Tenth congressional district of Pennsylvania. In that district Thomas H. Dale is a candidate on the Republican ticket, avowing his faith in Republican principles, his adherence to Republican policies, his belief in the Republican platform and his pride in the record of the Republican party. Opposed to him is George Howell, on the Democratic ticket, crying for a vindication because he was unseated two years ago. Back of Howell is an organ of the spineless kind.

Instead of avowing the Democracy of its candidate this organ pleads for mercy. "Protection is not endaugered," it says. "No Republican policy is imperiled." No interest of Lackawanna county is threatened. Congress will be Republican; the president will be a Republican; at the very worst the senate will remain Republican, and the tariff cannot be changed by the election of Howell. Just elect Howell and see how harmless he is! That is the burden of the organ's plaint, day after day. Don't vote for your principles, it says in effect to the Republicans of Lackawanna, but vote for our man, who has no principles, and who will be harmless if he happens to develop any after election. Never mind your protective tariff, for it cannot be changed next year, anyway. Just elect our man, though he is on the Democratic ticket. That isn't his fault. He is there only because he couldn't get on the Republican ticket.

That is the spineless kind. But if the voters of Pennsylvania could so far forget themselves as to elect a half-dozen Democratic candidates on that kind of a platform, they would soon hear that a great Democratic gain had been made; that even Pennsylvania demanded a reduction of the tariff; that the United States senate would be blind to its duty if it would not obey this plain manifestation of the popular will. Pennsylvania voters will not so far forget themselves. When they start in to elect Democratic congressmen it will be because they want Democratic policies in force, and they will pick out manly candidates who are not ashamed of the principles of their party, and whose organs do not try to conceal the significance of their election.

Fighting in Manchuria has been practically stopped by the merciful elements. Rain has made the movement of troops almost impossible—grateful rain to the feverish wounded.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Rare presence of mind on the part of a young girl resulted in the orderly exodus of over 100 tenants from a burning building early today, and averted a panic. The girl was Miss Eleanor Peterkin, 18 years old, of 180 East Eighty-ninth street. Returning home from a theater shortly after midnight, Miss Peterkin heard a crackling under the wainscoting, and found fire blazing furiously under the floor and between the walls. Realizing that over 100 people were asleep in the building and that the fire was gaining headway every minute, Miss Peterkin first ran up to her father's room and awakened him, telling him of the trouble. She then went to the upper floor to begin awakening the other tenants. As the girl made her way down from floor to floor the flames broke through the walls in the lower hall and a dense smoke rose through the house. On regaining the second floor Miss Peterkin found the smoke so thick she could scarcely breathe or see, but nevertheless she struggled on until all the tenants had been aroused, after which she made her way to the street, where she fainted. Everyone in the building escaped, most of them in their nightclothes. Miss Peterkin's warning had been so prompt that all danger of a panic was averted.

Senator Clark's Son a Horseman.

William A. Clark, Jr., son of Senator Clark of Montana, is to enter the horse racing game on an extensive scale. The young millionaire will breed and raise his own horses and is soon to make extensive purchases in the east for his establishment in Montana. Mr. Clark has the famous Bitter Root farm, the property of the late Marcus Daly, a park of some 27,000 acres, where every arrangement has been made for the raising and improving of thoroughbreds. As a matter of fact, the Bitter Root ranch will not become the property of Mr. Clark for some years, as by the terms of his father's will young Marcus Daly cannot sell the place until he is 30 years of age. The papers transferring the ranch to Clark are in the shape of a promise to sell at a later date. The price paid is above $2,000,000, and Mr. Clark will spend at least $1,000,000 more for stock and improvements.

Angora Cat Commits Suicide.

Beauty, a valuable snow-white Angora cat, with almost human intelligence, so its mistress says, lay down in its bed in the home of Peter Chankalian and died today after pulling open the largest jet of a gas stove. Beauty had been scolded for playing in the parlor, and when punished because of disobedience, its mistress says, purposely turned on the gas jet, and deliberately waited for death. Incidentally the lives of several persons in the house were endangered.

Mrs. Woodend Ill, Dr. Woodend Resumes.

Mrs. Jennie Louise Woodend, wife of Dr. W. E. Woodend, the spectacular financier whose failure caused a sensation a few months ago, is seriously ill of ptomaine poisoning. She has been sick since October 9, although the fact has been kept quiet. On that date she gave a supper to her friends and fellow players in the "Checkers" company. Some cheese served at the supper is believed to have induced the poisoning. Dr. Woodend admitted his wife's illness, and also announces that she has disposed of three valuable pieces of property and that he will resume business on November 1. Whether there is any connection between her sale of the property, for which Mrs. Woodend is believed to have received in the neighborhood of $200,000, and his re-entry into the financial world is not known.

Homesickness Cause of Suicide.

Despondent because she could not return home to her mother in the island of Barbadoes, Lillian Watkins committed suicide today by drinking carbolic acid. Miss Watkins lived with her brother, Walter, 26 years old. She often expressed her wish to return to her home in the West Indies, and repeatedly regretted that her salary of $8 weekly was insufficient to support her and her mother and younger brother in Barbadoes and leave enough to save to get back. For 18 months she has been saving, and when a search was made of her room $6.75 which she had hoarded with this object in view was found in a small iron bank.

Cupid Guides Lovers Together.

Love found a way at the railroad station in Long Island City, today, despite the attempt of a number of passengers to make a jest of the tender passion. It was when John Howard, 60 years old, who runs a restaurant at Sag Harbor, came down to meet the woman he was to make his wife. He had advertised for a consort to share his name and life. He at last found one that he could love. He left Sag Harbor with $600 in his pocket and in a genial frame of mind. In a communicative mood, he told a fellow passenger that he was on his way to meet his divinity, and that he had promised to wear a white handkerchief on his left arm. His confidante perfidiously spread the news, and when the train rolled into the station every man aboard had a white handkerchief tied conspicuously to his left coat sleeve. A tall, thin woman, apparently 50 years old, was waiting there. Fortunately, she saw Howard before her eyes caught sight of the badged multitude, and the two fell into one another's arms. With beaming faces they took the ferry across to Manhattan, where they were married.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

You'd scarce expect one of my age
To speak in public on the stage;
And if I chance to fall below
Demosthenes or Cicero,
Don't view me with a critic's eye,
But pass my imperfections by.
Large streams from little fountains flow,
Tall oaks from little acorns grow.
—David Everett.

How many of you have recited that little speech in school?

It was written by David Everett for one of his pupils while teaching school at New Ipswich, Mass. He was born in 1770, and died in 1813.

The statement has been made that this was the only thing he ever wrote, but it is not true, for after his graduation at Amherst he wrote extensively for the papers, both in prose and verse. He published a couple of books, also a drama. These did not long survive, but the lines quoted above will hardly die, at least not while boys live and school recitations are in vogue.

At the time of his death he was arranging to start a weekly paper in Marietta, Ohio, having become quite noted as a political writer. He died there in December, 1813.

Edward Everett, the famous orator, has been credited with the authorship of these lines, but he never claimed it.

So much for an old friend, for Mr. Everett was a friend to every boy who had to say a speech on Friday afternoon at school, or maybe Saturday, for in some country schools they used to put in full time, the same as on the farm.

And they made full days, too, for books were usually called at half-past seven, and didn't let out until the day's work was done, which was often after sunset.

From this you can readily figure out that a boy who had chores to do had to crawl out of bed long before daylight and hustle around in the dark, or at best with the dim light of a tallow candle in a tin lantern. And if he happened to live a mile, or a mile and a half, from the school house he had to scoot pretty lively in order to get there before roll call.

There was not much studying done at night, as you may imagine. By the time a boy got his night's chores done he was so tired and sleepy that nothing but his little trundle bed would meet his demands. And if he had supped on mush and milk, as he very often did, he couldn't get into bed any too soon, for it surely does put a boy, or anybody, into a fine humor for sleeping.

And it hasn't lost much of its somnolent properties, as has been proven by recent experiments.

If you don't sleep well sup on mush and milk, and nothing else, and you will find that it beats the coal tar derivatives all hollow.

Up until McGuffey's spellers and readers made their appearance along in the '50s there were no regular reading and spelling books, so that every fellow took whatever book he might have. Not a few had none other than the Bible, while others had a history, Pilgrim's Progress, Robinson Crusoe, or almost any old book. Not infrequently a half dozen would read from the same book.

But they learned to read all right. Indeed they had to pay special attention to spelling and reading.

And they could spell, too—spell the United States speller, and Webster's through from cover to cover, and then give Walker's Dictionary a lively tussle.

Everyone couldn't do all this, but the average scholar could stand up until the big, hard words toward the end of the book was reached.

There were usually two spelling classes, the big and the little, which meant the advanced and the primary, for there were generally a number of small-sized pupils in the big class, while some of the biggest ones were in the little class.

At the close of the week there was always a contest, two of the best spellers choosing sides by calling out the better ones first until all were chosen. Then the master gave out word about to each side. Any one missing a word was down and out, so that toward the close only the champions were up, and then the excitement would run high until all were down on one side.

* * * * *

Things are different now, and better, too, at least they are as well adapted to present conditions as were old-fashioned ways to old-fashioned conditions. The old log school house is gone from the land but not from the memory of many of our good and worthy citizens.

In the halls of congress, and in high places everywhere, you will find those who learned to cypher sitting on a slab bench, and wrote on a broad shelf fastened against the wall, using a quill pen and homemade ink.

These things are all out of date and could not be used to as much advantage as they were then. The pupils are altogether different and must be treated differently.

But the memories of old school days grow brighter and sweeter with distance, just as the pleasures of childhood become more and more delightful with each passing year.

The school marm, although not more than half a century old, at least in country districts, is holding her own real well, if not positively improving with age. But whether she will ever crowd man out entirely is rather doubtful. In fact the indications are that the schoolmaster is going to loom up considerably in the near future. He is needed.

But there will always be a place for the schoolmistress as long as our common schools continue, which will be as long as our government exists, and that's why we say, "More power to her!"

"The Smack in School," copied from one of the old School readers, makes some of us reminiscent. But we want to merely mention the fact that you are mistaken as to our having no poets, either born, or made, in Greene county. Take it back Mr. Q. O., or Greene county will have you indicted for libel.

Whether "The Smack in School" was perpetrated or written in Little Greene, matters not, but that's the sort of boys and girls we have in this county. If you have any doubts on the subject, come out to Waynesburg this present week to teachers' institute, and see what sort of boys and girls the district schools of Greene keep in stock.

This county has more pretty girls to the square mile than any other part of the whole earth.

Then you might find out more about "The Smack in School" when you have made the acquaintance of our pretty school marms. That's the opinion of an

War Pigeons

FROM BLACK AND WHITE.

Such is the exigency of war that even the gentle dove of peace is pressed into its service. The part played by these birds and the yeoman service they rendered in the South African war will still be fresh in many memories; and notwithstanding the advent and progress of wireless telegraphy "the faithful messenger" is again seeing active service, this time with the Japanese and Russian forces. With a far-seeing forethought, the necessity of which is only now apparent, the Japs some five years ago established their military and naval lofts, and by repeated experiments since then they have organized a system calculated to bring forth the highest qualities of the pigeons with which their lofts were stocked.

A great obstacle, and one which at first was considered fatal to the formation of a reliable service of messengers, has melted away. The natural enemy of the pigeon, the hawk, has made havoc among the Chinese pigeons, and the remedy adopted in that country of scaring off these birds of prey by attaching a light bamboo whistle to the pigeon's tail feathers was not within the bounds of consideration from a military point of view. The shrill sound made by these whistles as the birds darted through the air in their efforts to escape capture would have been fatal to their use. The remedy came with the adoption of the English racing pigeon. This bird, being built on more speedy lines, was found to out-distance the hawk in a stern chase, and unless the latter was in the upper reaches of the air and was thus enabled to swoop down on its prey, its terror no longer existed.

Each vessel leaving port now is furnished with a supply of birds, packed in flat wicker baskets with openings at the side for feeding and watering. When it is required to send a message ashore, the birds liberated are those belonging to the loft which is nearest to the vessel's position. It has been found that birds liberated at sea will rise to a height of 1,400 feet, this being far in excess of the altitude reached by a pigeon when flying across land. They moreover, shape a more direct course and generally make away without the numerous circlings so noticeable under different circumstances.

The arrival of a bird carrying a dispatch at the Japanese naval lofts is announced by an ingenious arrangement of electric bells. After entering an outer cage the bird passes through a log box, opened at each end, before entering the loft itself. When an arrival is expected the loft end of this box is closed with glass doors, and the weight of the bird on entering the box causes it to tilt sufficiently to allow a shutter to drop behind the pigeon, which is thus held captive. At the same moment an electric bell rings and does not stop until the bird is removed from the box and relieved of its dispatch, the latter being at once sent to headquarters, where its code is deciphered. As these birds are often kept in the basket aboard ship for several weeks, the messenger on its arrival is allowed to remain undisturbed in the loft for an equal period, in order that its love of home may be unimpaired; otherwise there would be an element of uncertainty when it was called upon for future service.

With an army on the march the use of pigeons as messengers has so far proved a failure, all experiments to get these birds to return to a loft continually on the move, having been void of success. Japan has, however, with the tenacity of purpose for which she is famous, scored a success with traveling lofts. Such lofts are stocked with birds as soon as they are old enough to leave the nest, and the birds are kept confined within it until required for use.

The whole loft is then transferred to the military base, or temporary post near the scene of operations, and the birds, then several months old, have liberty for the first time. Not have flown to another locality, they quickly settle down to their new surroundings, and in a few days are familiar with the country for miles around. Every opportunity is seized to give them additional experience before being actually used in the service, and to keep open communications with an advance column, or for scouting work, these traveling lofts have proved invaluable. Should, however, the base of operations be advanced or a temporary post abandoned the birds are at once discarded and a new loft transferred to the altered surroundings.

Scouts, both mounted and on cycle, each carry from four to six birds in a bamboo cage, slung after the fashion of a knapsack, and thus reports are sent back without the necessity of their leaving their post of observation. For great distances two birds may be flown with the same dispatch, but this is seldom required, the usual custom being to repeat each message on subsequent birds, so that the final pigeon liberated would not only carry its own, but also a copy of messages sent by the birds first liberated.

It must be understood that the flight of the pigeon would be seriously impeded were it to be burdened with any great weight, and consequently dispatches are written on specially prepared slips of rice paper. These, contrary to the general impression, are not tied round the bird's neck, but are rolled and placed in a celluloid holder, fastened by two clips to the bird's leg, and are thus carried close under the tail of the bird when it is in flight. The total weight of this carrier, which is manufactured by a Belgium firm, is under four grams.

Cost of the Philippines.

The Philippines have not cost anything like $700,000,000, nor anything like half that sum. The thorough and minute report of the war department showed that up to May, 1902, the total cost to the United States of the Philippine islands, including the $20,000,000 paid to Spain to extinguish the debt for public betterments, the expenses of suppressing the insurrection and everything else coming out of the United States treasury which could be laid to the account of the islands amounted to $180,000,000. Since that date we have spent on the islands at the outside not more than $30,000,000, including expenses for troops there, which would be incurred, just the same as if we had them here and did not own the Philippines. What inexcusable ignorance or malice is it, then, to make such a colossal blunder as to tell the people that the Philippines have cost us $700,000,000? Mr. Olney's figures of the annual expense of maintenance are equally wide of the mark.—New York Tribune.

Doubtful Sanity.

When an inmate escapes from an institution for the feeble-minded, he invariably argues that he is safe and sane, and that it is an imposition to keep him longer in confinement. Is not this about the condition of the Democratic party? After virtually conceding that it has been pursuing an insane policy for eight or 10 years, it comes limping around and proclaims that it has completely recovered its sanity, but fails to give tangible proof of it in its platform. Then the very man who was, by implication at least, the most pronounced lunatic among them, takes the stump in advocacy of the alleged convalescent.—Oil City Blizzard.

The man who can't be happy these days with a barrel of fresh cider and a straw has been sadly neglected in his early education.—Johnstown Tribune.

A bowl of mush and milk or a plate of nice buckwheat cakes, with a yard or two of nice sausage, is not so hard to take these cold frosty mornings.—Martinsburg Cor. Altoona Tribune.

William Murphy and two sons, of near Laboratory, husked 250 bushels of corn last Thursday on the W. H. Martin farm. This is the best husking on record in this vicinity. Mr. Martin also cribbed 100 bushels on the same day.—S. Strabane Cor. Washington Observer.

RICH HARVEST IN STORE FOR FULTON

Over $1,250,000 in City Taxes Fell Delinquent This Year.

FEES WILL REACH $40,000

City Treasurer John F. Steel made the astonishing report to Controller Larkin yesterday that $1,253,936 68 in taxes had become delinquent this year. The first work done by the new city treasurer was to report to the controller the amount of taxes collected during the year by his predecessor, E. J. Frauenheim, who transferred the treasurership yesterday to Mr. Steel.

The statement had been compiled by Mr. Frauenheim and presented to his successor, when he turned over the office. The report includes city, water, school and special taxes. The aggregate collected by the treasurer in 1904 was $5,370,113 45. The amount collected by him in 1903 was $4,914,026 13.

The total assessment of city taxes, based upon a 12½-mill levy this year, was $5,650,224 02; exonerations were $10,983; discounts, $163,101 22, making a total to be collected of $5,536,239 80.

The actual amount collected was $4,082,351 01 for city and school tax, leaving a delinquency of $903,888 79, as against $842,890 last year. The water tax collections amounted to only $737,762 47 out of a total assessment of $1,106,802 20. It is almost a startling fact that the water tax collections this year amounted to $76,000 less than last year.

But for the fact of the extraordinary increase in valuation placed on real estate last year by the city assessors, the receipts from city taxes would also have fallen below the amount collected last year. The delinquency in the water tax this year amounts to $350,047 89. The exonerations were $18,791 84.

The fact that over $1,250,000 in taxes fell delinquent this year is astonishing to the city officials. The treasurer's theory is that the depression in business and the scarcity of money is responsible for the piling up of such a large amount of delinquent accounts. This means a harvest for the delinquent tax collector. His fees for the collection of $1,253,936 68 for 1904, not counting collections due from former years, which is a considerable amount, will amount to about $40,000.

MOTHER-IN-LAW'S ODD TALE AGAINST M'KINNEY

Does Not Believe His Wife Is Dead, Although He Showed Her Picture in a Coffin.

Homer L. McKinney was held for United States court yesterday by Commissioner W. T. Lindsay, on a charge of using the mails with intent to defraud. McKinney is an ex-Methodist preacher. He represented himself to be a country girl, aged 28, with a preference to being an old maid, rather than marry a fool or a drunkard. He wrote to several parties in the west proposing correspondence with a view to matrimony, and secured money from them to "pay car fare." McKinney decline to plead at the hearing.

Postoffice Inspector George W. Wardle of Philadelphia, testified that, when arrested, McKinney admitted having written postal cards mailed at Ingleside and signed "Mary Robbins," the name he used for his dupes. When questioned later he denied this and said Mary Robbins was a canvasser in his employ.

William M. Dougall, postmaster at Ingleside, testified that all mail addressed to Mary Robbins and Anna Hull was delivered to McKinney. Mr. Dougall's daughter, who is clerk at the postoffice, and Miss Ethel E. Saunders of the Leechburg postoffice, identified McKinney as the person who collected a $50 money order which had been sent to Mary Robbins by W. Tilley of Eureka, Cal. McKinney had stated the girl was his niece. J. H. Holmes, who has lived in Freeport for 30 years, testified that, to his knowledge, no Mary Robbins has ever lived in that vicinity.

Conrad Barger of Salineville, O., father-in-law of McKinney, identified all the letters signed Mary Robbins as being in McKinney's handwriting.

Mrs. Mary Barger, his wife, also identified the handwriting. Mrs. Barger volunteered the information that her daughter was McKinney's fourth wife, but, according to his statement, she died in Eureka, Cal., last April. Mr. Barger said that, accompanying the letter which informed her of the death of her daughter, was a photograph of a handsome girl lying in a coffin which, McKinney wrote, was a photograph of her dead daughter. She believes her daughter is still alive, as the picture bore no resemblance whatever to her daughter.

BOYS HAVE LONG WAIT.

Employed to Secure Choice Seats for Orchestra Concerts.

As usual at this season there's a line of boys waiting day and night in front of Hamilton's music store in Wood street. They are employed to hold places for patrons of the Pittsburgh orchestra concerts, who take this method of securing an early choice of seats. Some of the boys have been "holding down their claims" for a week. They seem to enjoy the job and, being lively youngsters, they invent many diversions for passing the time.

The S. Hamilton Company supplied them with zoboes and the boys serenaded The Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph offices with the latest popular songs. The zoboes have a political significance, some of them having the names of Roosevelt and Fairbanks, and others the names of Parker and Davis. Incidentally it was noted that the boys all insisted on getting the Republican brand of zoboes.

GREAT MEETING IN NEW YORK

ALSO SPEAKS IN BROOKLYN

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.

Ushered in by the glare of fireworks, the music of brass bands and the cheers of marching clubs in torchlight parade, the big Republican mass meeting at Madison Square garden began tonight with that vast auditorium crowded to the doors. The members of the audience each bore a small American flag. There were thousands outside unable to gain admission, for which overflow meetings were held. The fireworks display itself drew an enormous crowd, and this was augmented when the various parades began to concentrate at the square. The speakers were Senator Fairbanks and Lieut.-Gov. Higgins, Republican candidate for governor. Ex-Secretary Root presided.

Mr. Root, in opening the meeting, referring to Judge Parker's recent address on the Philippines, said the judge had been deceived into overstating the cost of American occupation by some $450,000,000. The judge asked whether the Republicans would provide proper statutes for the Philippines, when there were statutes which the judge by examination will find equal to those of any state in the union, and three of the men who prepared them were Filipinos. Judge Parker asked if the Republicans would give the perishing shipping relief. The shipping does not need relief.

Judge Parker asked if the Filipinos would be given tariff legislation under which they could exist. The Philippines have a tariff lower than ours and lower than they ever had before. The judge asked if the islands are self-sustaining. The revenues far exceed the expenditures. The judge asks where are the Philippine markets? The trade of the Philippines has been nearly double during American occupation what it was in five years previous. Judge Parker takes the word of an unknown student that the islands are in a disastrous condition, yet Archbishop Harty, recently returned from a tour of them, declares the people are prosperous and happy.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Republican club, and Senator Fairbanks was the principal speaker in the garden, who said in part:

The Republican party stands squarely by the protective system. This system has vindicated itself. It is the basis of our present industrial and commercial development. Under it our domestic commerce has attained a magnitude unprecedented in our history. No one can comprehend its proportions. An assault upon the protective system means to imperil our industrial development. The Republican party is not in favor of revision, for the mere sake of change. It is not in favor of revision along free trade lines. Wherever it becomes evident that revision is needed in the public interest, the Republican party is willing and able to make it; but it will make it consistent with the protective policy; it will make it so as to preserve the protective principle, and promote our industrial development—not to check or overthrow it.

The most aggressive and determined elements in the Democratic party frankly avow that they have not renounced their allegiance to the heresy of free silver, and openly avow their belief that the money question is for the time being only in abeyance. Is it the part of commercial prudence to call to power a party which contains the elements determined to renew their assault upon our monetary system? Is it not, upon the whole, wise to entrust our monetary affairs to the party which has had the wisdom and the courage to establish the gold standard, and to so safeguard our silver and paper currency as to insure their maintenance at a parity with gold?

Secretary Shaw and Congressman Griffiths of Indiana also spoke in Brooklyn.

Narrow Escape of Policeman.

DR. GINNER, THE FAMOUS SCOTCH PHYSICIAN, IS BUSY

This Is One of the Most Remarkable Cases On Medical Record.

To the Editor:

Dear Sir—Please be so kind as to publish this in your paper, as I think it my duty to let the public know of my wonderful recovery. I am a married woman and have a family. Some four years ago I began to have a pain in my breast. I consulted many noted physicians. They told me I had a cancer and must undergo a surgical operation, and then not be sure of being cured. I put it off, and thank God I did, for I have been told of Dr. Ginner, the great specialist from Scotland, and being acquainted with some people he had already cured, I went to him, and Dr. Ginner removed the cancer without the use of a knife or the loss of a drop of blood and very little pain. After the doctor put on his application the cancer fell out on the tenth day and now I am cured. It seems so wonderful I can hardly believe it, but I rejoice to testify that it is true. I recommend all people to go to Dr. Ginner, 703 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, for advice. He is such a nice gentleman and he can cure everything.

Respectfully,
Mrs. Elizabeth Griffith,

Eighteenth Ward, Pittsburgh.

HEAVY IRON PURCHASE MAY ADVANCE MARKET

Steel Corporation Figuring on Heavy Profits on Higher Billets and Steel Bars.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The announcement that the United States Steel Corporation is figuring on buying 400,000 tons of pig iron and blowing out six or seven of its furnaces is important. This would advance the pig iron market materially and enable the corporation to advance billets and sheet bars, thus holding finished materials firm and possibly advancing them.

It is figured that its loss on buying pig iron with idle furnaces of its own would be small compared with possible additional profits on steel products sold.

Already the United States Steel Corporation is sounding other steel producers on their attitude regarding advancing billets and sheet bars.

LOCAL CHURCHES TALK SECESSION

Readjustment of Presbyterian Lines to Be Fought Out at Oxford.

CANDIDATES FOR MODERATOR

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

OXFORD, PA., Oct. 19.—About one-half of the commissioners to the synod of Pennsylvania, which will convene tomorrow morning, are on the ground. The delegations from Pittsburgh and Allegheny and other Western Pennsylvania presbyteries are expected in the morning.

Several of the leaders have been in Oxford since Monday working for the election of the Rev. Dr. J. Vernon Bell of Dubois as moderator of the synod. His prospects are sized up tonight as light. Three years ago the Rev. Dr. Thomas R. Beeber of Philadelphia was moderator, two years ago the Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan of Pittsburgh, and last year the Rev. Dr. George S. Chambers of Harrisburg, and it is generally conceded that this highest office of the synod should go this year to the northwest, as Clarion presbytery never had a moderator.

Notwithstanding the excision of the new synod of West Virginia, now in session in Parkersburg, by the act of the last Presbyterian general assembly at Buffalo, the synod of Pennsylvania continues to be the largest synod in the denomination and the largest synodical organization in the world.

The great question to be fought to a finish in this synod is the readjustment of presbyterial lines in the western presbyteries on account of the organization of the new synod. Much feeling has already developed and there is talk of the secession of some of the Pittsburgh churches if the synod should assign them to the Washington presbytery. Should the synod make the order an appeal to the general assembly is threatened.

The Rev. Dr. J. M. McTunkin of Oakdale will address the synod tomorrow in the interest of synodical mission. An immense home missionary mass meeting was held tonight when the Rev. Dr. Calvin C. Hays of Johnstown presided, and the address of the occasion was made by the Rev. Dr. Robert McKenzie of New York on behalf of the board of home mission. The Rev. Dr. Samuel Black McCormick, the new chancellor of the Western university, is booked for the main address tomorrow night.

LUTHER LEAGUE MEMBERS END THEIR CONVENTION

A. Raymond Bard Is Re-Elected President and Other Officers Are Also Chosen.

The business of the Luther league convention, which was held in the First Lutheran church, Grant street, practically ended yesterday afternoon with the election of the following officers: President, A. Raymond Bard, Reading; recording secretary, Anna M. Landis, Penn station; corresponding secretary, Ida H. Zinson, Philadelphia; statistical secretary, D. W. Shollenberger, Montgomery; literature secretary, the Rev. M. L. Zweizig, Leechburg; treasurer, F. P. D. Miller, Columbia. President Bard strongly opposed his re-election, and when he was unanimously chosen it was with the understanding that he was not to serve out his full year.

The principal speaker of the afternoon was the Rev. A. S. Fichthorn, a former missionary to India, whose subject was "The Luther League—Outward." He gave reasons why the league continue missionary work, and said that the work in India was anything but a failure.

The work of the committee on the Muhlenberg memorial was approved and the convention voted to raise $3,000 for its erection. A resolution, having for its object a general rally in commemoration of the 10th anniversary of the national organization, was adopted. The committee on credentials reported that 186 delegates were registered and had been in attendance at the convention, while 194 credentials had been received.

The Rev. H. K. Shaner of Harmony led the devotional exercises at the morning session, and the principal address was delivered by W. H. Rupple, a leading layman of Somerset. The speaker thinks he sees danger to the nation from the fact that the Sabbath is not properly observed, and in this connection he said:

"We must impress on our fellowmen the necessity of diligent study of the Bible, of earnest, simple prayer and the duty of keeping the Sabbath day holy; and the last cannot be made too emphatic. The harm that is being done through our loose notions of keeping the Sabbath can never be estimated and it may not be amiss to sound a note of warning. The general movement now afoot to remove the barriers from the preservation of the Sabbath are largely due to the indifferent manner in which this day is kept by church members. Not only is the Christian Sabbath at stake, but the foundations of our government are being shaken."

Greetings from the New York state league were brought to the convention by E. F. Eilert of New York city. He was the first president of the Luther league in America, and is now the editor of the Luther League Review. The Rev. Luther M. Kuhns of Omaha, the general secretary of the national league, brought greetings from western states.

The crowd at the evening session was so great that an overflow meeting was held in the Sunday school room, which was addressed by the Rev. George C. Luce and W. C. Stoever of Philadelphia and William M. McNair of this city. During the song part of the service the doors between the auditorium and the Sunday school room were opened.

The opening address was by the Rev. Dr. J. S. Whitteker of Philadelphia, who spoke on "The Luther League—Its Opportunities." The Rev. Dr. A. J. Turkle of Allegheny spoke on "The Luther League—Responsibilities."

The music was a great feature of the meeting. At times, when some old German tune was sounded, the entire audience joined with the choir. The place of meeting for the next convention will be determined later by the executive committee.

Many of the delegates are remaining in the city today. They will be given a trolley ride through the East End and this afternoon will attend the Exposition.

HELD LAST SESSION.

Meeting of Baptist Ministers Closes With Election of Officers.

The Pennsylvania Baptist Ministers' association, which had been in session in McKeesport, closed yesterday morning with the election of the following officers: President, G. K. Crozier, Upland; secretary, the Rev. C. A. Sores, Philadelphia; recording secretary, the Rev. C. A. Walker, Malvern; treasurer, Walter T. Lee, Philadelphia. A board of managers, composed of 32 members, was also elected.

At the closing session devotional exercises were led by the Rev. W. H. Vincent. The principal address was delivered by the Rev. F. W. Fletcher, his subject being "Settlement of Pastors." The Rev. Dr. M. G. Evans talked on "What State Missions Involve." The 85th annual session of the Baptist Educational society was held in the afternoon.

Temperance Workers in Session.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 19.—Various reports were read today at the meeting of the state Woman's Christian Temperance union in session here. Miss Anna Quinby, state secretary of the Loyal Temperance Legion; Miss Oliva A. Thomas, secretary of the Young Women's branch; Miss Lillian A. Burt of Columbus, and Mrs. Lillian Cole Bethel of Columbus made addresses. Mrs. Artha W. Clark gave the president's annual address this afternoon.

BANKS WHICH OBEY THE LAW NEVER FAIL

Comptroller Ridgely Talks About Examinations to Illinois Association.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19.—At today's session of the Illinois Bankers association, in the Illinois building at the world's fair grounds, Hartman Baker of Philadelphia discussed the question: "If On Exhibition at the World's Fair, Would Banking in the United States Deserve Honorable Mention?"

The leading address of the day was made by the Hon. William B. Ridgely, comptroller of the currency, Washington, D. C., on "Bank Examinations and Failures." He said in part:

No national bank whose officers strictly obeyed the national banking act ever failed, not one. It may almost be said that not one which did not make loans in excess of the 10 per cent limit has ever failed. The practically universal rule is that all failures are due to excess loans to one interest or group of interests generally owned or controlled by the officers of the bank itself. In the comptroller's office, when any question is raised in regard to a bank and the examiner's reports are sent for, the first thing looked at is loans to officers and directors, and then excess loans. If the officers owe the bank little or nothing and there are no excess loans, it seldom necessary to look much further, for the bank is almost sure to be found in good condition.

WOULD COMPROMISE ON RE-MARRIAGE QUESTION

New Resolution Is Offered at the Episcopal General Convention.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—An attempt was made today by the committee on canons of the Episcopal house of deputies to arrange a compromise between that body and the house of bishops. The bishops had adopted an amendment forbidding the remarriage of divorced persons, while the deputies had declined to adopt so rigid a provision.

The committee on canons offered a resolution compelling divorced persons seeking remarriage to wait one year after the decree of the court has been passed before the solemnization of the ceremony. By this resolution, which referred to the innocent person in a divorce for infidelity only, it was hoped to secure at least a temporary agreement between the two forces. After some debate, the divorce issue was made a special order for tomorrow.

In the house of bishops, Bishop Henry C. Potter, chairman of the standing committee on the relations of capital and labor, presented a lengthy report, which touched upon certain evils the committee found, and discussed the industrial situation at great length.

Not "Jack the Hugger."

John Ranft, aged 55, who is said to resemble a "Jack the Hugger," who has been annoying women and girls in Homestead for some time, was discharged by Burgess W. Shaler Ross yesterday. A number of girls returning to their homes Tuesday night were frightened by a man in Ann street and Ranft's arrest followed. The girls were unable to identify him.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

To Prove what Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney Remedy will do for YOU, Every Reader of The Gazette May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

83 Cottage St., Melrose, Mass.
Jan. 11th, 1904.

Dear Sir: Ever since I was in the Army I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it became so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed—my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time.

I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this, I had a doctor examine some of my water today and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition.

I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers, I am. Very Truly Yours,

I. C. RICHARDSON.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything, but it promptly cures kidney, liver and bladder troubles, the symptoms of which are—obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing, brickdust or sediment in the urine, headache, backache, lame back, dizziness, poor digestion, sleeplessness, nervousness, heart disturbance due to bad kidney trouble, skin eruptions from bad blood, neuralgia, rheumatism, diabetes, bloating, irritability, wornout feeling, lack of ambition, loss of flesh, sallow complexion, or Bright's disease.

If your water, when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, forms a sediment or settling or has a cloudy appearance, it is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is for sale at drug stores the world over in bottles of two sizes and two prices—fifty cents and one dollar. Remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTE—In order to prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in The Pittsburgh Gazette. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed.

FERTILE FIELDS ARE TRAVERSED

Pittsburgh Trade Boomers Expecting Great Results from Southern Ohio Journey.

MANY TOWNS GIVE GREETINGS

John F. Cowan, Staff Correspondent.

LANCASTER, O., Oct. 19.—The trade boomers of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association today invaded the "enemy's country," carrying the evidences of Pittsburgh's commercial prestige into the very shadows of Cincinnati and through the delightful day whirled from town to town through the southern counties of Ohio, receiving everywhere a cordial greeting from their Buckeye neighbors.

Being away from the familiar routes of travel and freight transportation lines between Pittsburgh and the west, this section of Ohio was looked upon as a field for the prosecution of a campaign of education in order to bring a generous share of their trade to Pittsburgh, but to the surprise of the travelers a number of big orders for Pittsburgh goods were received from local merchants.

The brass bands are still playing and the fact that the tourists have reached a country where less is known of Pittsburgh firms has not dampened the ardor of enthusiasm. Down here the people look more to the practical side of the trip and there naturally was less of social entertainment.

"We buy in Cincinnati, Chicago and the eastern cities," they said, "but we should cheerfully divide our trade with Pittsburgh. We are familiar with your city's enterprise, but we have been isolated from it. Your coming indicates you are not overlooking us and in the future Ohio business men shall not overlook Pittsburgh. Many orders that hitherto went to New York, Cincinnati and other cities will now find their way to your town."

The chief features of today's pilgrimage were in the visit to the Soldiers and Sailors Orphans' Home at Xenia and the royal welcome extended tonight by the people of Lancaster. The hospitality of the citizens of these two towns was most conspicuous, because more time was given for the people to devote to the entertainment of their guests.

The special train left Columbus at dawn and reached London just after the sun peeped up in the eastern sky, augering another beautiful day. Every Pittsburgher was given a stogie adorning a pink carnation and tied with ribbon of patriotic colors. An hour was spent and the journey was resumed to Xenia, where Major A. T. Cordrey, heading a reception committee, escorted the visitors to the Greene county court house, where a few brief words of welcome were spoken on behalf of the residents of the town. The Sons of Veterans' band played patriotic airs and the party paraded around the principal thoroughfares.

Happy, smiling faces of 1,000 boys and girls, orphans of Ohio heroes, greeted the travelers at the Orphans' Home, one of the most unique institutions of its kind in the country. Little girls in immaculate white aprons and sturdy lads in uniforms were assembled on the parade ground under the scarlet boughs of the maples and poplars. A dress parade was given and the battalion of young soldiers received a chorus of hearty cheers as the evolutions of the drill were executed with remarkable precision and accuracy.

At Washington Court House the train halted an hour and the merchants of the place received their visitors in their places of business. A fine old town is Chillicothe, the ancient capital of the Northwest territory, burial place of five former Ohio governors and the spot where Chief Logan made his celebrated treaty. All these historic spots were visited in carriages provided by a public reception committee. At Circleville a similar reception was tendered. It seemed that every citizen had appointed himself on the entertainment committee and nearly the entire population was at the station when the special arrived.

Lancaster, the capital of Fairfield county, made elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the visitors. Tonight there was a luncheon, with music and oratory in profusion, while the hospitality of the local Elks' club rooms was enjoyed. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Lancaster board of trade and is one of the most pretentious receptions that the Merchants and Manufacturers' association have enjoyed in the smaller cities.

President Chris Keller, of the board of trade, introduced the speakers, who took a wide range of subjects and did not forget the social side of the visit while they talked shop and the mutual advantages which Lancaster and Pittsburgh expect to enjoy in the future.

Mayor Rainey welcomed the guests and President Lloyd made a brief response.

Tomorrow the party will journey to Athens.

BADE GIRL FAREWELL; THEN ENDED HIS LIFE

Former Regular Army Private Fearing Arrest, Swallowed Carbolic Acid.

Death Cleats Theft Mystery.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Oct. 19.—Yesterday Robert Lee Booth, aged 23 years, a former Baltimore & Ohio railroad trackman, called at the home of Miss Fern Bosiow and bade her goodbye, stating he was going to Pittsburgh to escape arrest for desertion from the regular army post at Richmond, Va. Early this morning his dead body was found in an outbuilding two doors below the house where the girl lives. An empty two-ounce vial labeled "carbolic acid" was found by his side. Booth's death solved the mystery of the theft of two gold rings, a Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen pin, a gold watch and $18 in money, taken from his brothers-in-law, W. H. and C. W. Bradley, with whom he made his home. Pawn tickets for the jewelry were found in his clothing. Booth was formerly a private in the United States army, located at Richmond, Va., and his parents reside at Coatesville, Va., where the body will be shipped for burial.

Sued for Delinquent Assessments.

SHARON, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Forty merchants of Sharon, Greenville and other surrounding towns were sued by the receiver of the Duquesne Casualty Company of Pittsburgh, because they refused to pay assessments on policies which insured them against burglaries. Judgments were awarded yesterday by a Greenville justice of the peace, but all of the cases have been appealed to the common pleas court of Mercer county. The assessments range from $5 up to $300.

LAY BARE EVILS OF CHILD LABOR

Delinquencies of the State in Providing Remedies Discussed by Women's Clubs.

AGE LIMIT SHOULD BE RAISED

Anna B. Stratton, Staff Correspondent.

LANCASTER, PA., Oct. 19.—No session of the state legislature in Lancaster when, from 1799 to 1812, this city was the capital of Pennsylvania, was of greater interest than the parliament of women's clubs which was held today, culminating tonight in the lecture and reading of Mrs. Margaret Deland in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian association. Mrs. Deland spoke on "The Duty of Happiness."

The morning session opened at 10 o'clock with a conference on "The Child and the State." The principal address was given by Mrs. Florence Kelly, secretary of the National Consumers league, and a member of the national child labor committee. Reports were received from two committees of the federation, the committee on industrial conditions, Mrs. Wilbur F. Rose of Philadelphia, chairman, and the committee on child labor, Mrs. Ellis Lewis Campbell of Wayne, chairman. The first committee, appointed to inform itself as to the conditions of child labor and to acquaint the women's clubs with conditions and produce a popular demand to abolish existing evils, reported that amelioration can be brought about only by raising the age limit. Mrs. Rose said in part:

"The present laws forbid any child under 13 years of age to labor, yet children are working in all parts of Pennsylvania on certificates of age falsely sworn to by parents or custodians. Little ones of 8 years are holding such certificates. In Pittsburgh the greatest number of children thus employed are found in the Hebrew district and their ages range from 7 to 14 years. The tobacco factories are regarded as the worst places for them, because of defective ventilation. The Columbian Council school is doing very much to take the girls out of this environment.

"In Philadelphia the Poles are the greatest violators of the law, not from necessity, but because of total lack of knowledge and the need of educational advantages for the children. It is the opinion of the committee that the present laws on child labor need reform. The age limit in Pennsylvania is lower than in New York, Illinois and New Jersey. In Vermont the age limit is 15 years; in 28 states it is 14, and in Pennsylvania it is 13. Georgia has no restrictions whatever and children of 6, 7 and 8 years are to be found working in the cotton fields."

The afternoon was devoted to the presentation of the reports of the committees on legislation and the juvenile court. Mrs. Franklin P. Iams of Pittsburgh, chairman of the first committee, reported that as there was no session of the legislature this year the committee scanned legislation without drafting any new bills. The committee, however, asked for the influence of the federation to effect the passage of laws affecting the employment of children; to prevent the proposed repeal of the juvenile court act; to prevent any repeal of the tenement house law; to secure the installation of the merit system in civil service and to effect the passage of a law prohibiting the destruction of trees by the erection of trolley lines and telephone and telegraph wires.

The report of Mrs. Richard R. Quay, chairman of the juvenile court committee, was read by Mrs. Ida M. Houghton, and the history and work of the courts in Pennsylvania was carefully followed. In Philadelphia there are 11 probation officers. Philadelphia working under a different law from that enacted and affecting Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Scranton, cities of the second class. Pittsburgh has four probation officers, model rooms of detention in which three matrons are installed and where 694 children have been received since April, 1903, 417 of whom were returned to their homes under the charge of the probation officers, the others being placed in institutions.

Following this report Prof. James H. Morgan of Carlisle, Pa., spoke on state schools for truant and vagrant children, outlining a plan for the establishment of state schools where rebellious children may lay the foundation of some form of industrial work which will be of use later on in life.

Mrs. Edward Biddle of Carlisle moved that the federation indorse Prof. Morgan's plan and that it then be presented to Nathan C. Shaefer, state superintendent of education, for approval, and if his indorsement be given, that the legislature be petitioned for an appropriation for the establishment of such schools. After very animated discussion the motion was laid on the table until tomorrow for further consideration and discussion.

An address was made by Mrs. Alice B. Montgomery, probation officer in Pittsburgh, on her work. In the discussion which followed Miss Yetta Baumgarten, head resident of the Columbian council school, showed some phases of juvenile court work in that social settlement.

Forest Fires Threaten Railroads.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Forest fires are raging on the mountains in the mining region. The entire top of Fir Vein hill, near Lonaconing, was ablaze last night, and tonight the fires have swept very close to the George creek and Cumberland railroad. The fire has with great difficulty been kept away from the coal mines owned by David M. Evans.

WORK OUTLINED FOR HERO FUND

Commission Meets and Fixes Specific Requirements of Applicants for Recognition.

WHAT A HERO MUST BE AND DO

Conditions under which the Carnegie hero fund can be applied were formulated and passed upon at a meeting of the commission held in the board room of the Carnegie Steel Company yesterday afternoon, at which time full definitions were adopted of the requisites of a hero and the territory fixed in which the deeds of valor must be performed in order that the valiant may share the benefits of the funds.

Full power to apply these conditions and investigate applications was officially vested in the executive committee. While the executive committee meets in the first Tuesday of each month, the commission does not again meet until January, and, therefore, no award can possibly be made until that time.

The executive committee is now considering 59 worthy applications, scores of other, but unworthy, applications having been already disposed of. Of the 59 cases now under investigation the executive committee is already assured of favorably recommending, while partial investigation of six others shows them to also be worthy of consideration at the hands of the commission. The identity of these cases has not as yet been disclosed.

Acceptance of the Trust.

Of the 21 members of the commission 12 were present yesterday as follows: W. L. Abbott, E. H. Anderson, W. W. Blackburn, Dr. W. J. Holland, John B. Jackson, C. C. Mellor, T. N. Miller, F. C. Perkins, W. L. Scaife, W. H. Stevenson, C. L. Taylor and F. M. Wilmot.

Engrossed resolutions, accepting the trust of the Carnegie hero fund were presented, accepted and ordered framed and presented to Mr. Carnegie as early as possible. The organization committee, of which Thomas Lynch is chairman, then presented definitions limiting the scope of the fund and the basis of work of the commission. This report was accepted and made the following important provisions:

The scope of the fund shall be confined strictly within the following limitations:

First—To acts in which conclusive evidence may be obtained showing that the person performing the act voluntarily risked his own life in saving or attempting to save the life of a fellow being, or who voluntarily has sacrificed himself in an heroic manner for the benefit of others.

Must Not Be in Line of Duty.

Second—Such acts must have been performed by persons the nature of whose duties in following their regular vocations does not necessarily require them to perform such acts.

Third—Such acts must have been performed in the United States of America, the Dominion of Canada, the colony of Newfoundland and the waters thereof.

Fourth—Such acts must have been performed on or after April 15, 1904.

Fifth—Heroic acts may be brought to the attention of the commission by direct application or through the public press.

Following the adoption of the definitions as prescribed by the organization committee, the finance committee reported through Chairman John B. Jackson that the $5,000,000 fund of United States Steel bonds had been registered in the name of the commission and had borne, since May 13, interest aggregating about $50,000.

A general discussion as to the nature of the medals to be awarded was finally terminated by laying the matter over until the next meeting of the commission.

To Avoid Theft of Medals.

It is the general opinion of the commissioners that the medal should convey no intrinsic value, in order to eliminate possibility of theft. Bronze as the basis has the support of the majority of the commission, although some showed preference for gold and silver.

The executive committee, through its chairman, Dr. W. J. Holland, reported that designs had been submitted to the committee by jewelers throughout the country. The executive committee further reported that it had received a communication from the Royal Canadian Humane Society, offering to co-operate with the commission, which was accepted gratefully.

The executive committee has been deluged with communications from cranks offering suggestions for the application of the $5,000,000 at the disposal of the fund, while many others have written acknowledging that they could make use of some of the money, while not boasting of any other heroic action. One man wrote that he had flagged a train in time to prevent disaster and gave the location of a farm in Kansas, which he suggested be bought for him. The committee has received 244 letters in all and has classified them as follows:

The executive committee held a special meeting on June 21 to consider the relief of victims of the General Slocum disaster, which occurred on June 15. F. M. Wilmot, the secretary, was authorized to proceed to New York to confer with Jacob H. Schiff to learn to what extent the commission might properly be called upon to render assistance. This Mr. Wilmot did, learning from Mr. Schiff that the people of New York city had provided for the relief of the sufferers to meet all the exegiencies of the case.

While the commission at the time realized that it may not be within their scope to render relief, the purpose of the visit was to determine if there was any necessity for aid, and if so, to then carefully consider their obligations covering such cases.

Has Issued Annual Report.

Superintendent Hamilton has issued his annual report on the schools of Allegheny county. The salient points of the report appeared in The Gazette of last Saturday morning.

DR. EASTON WOULD EVICT PENNSYLVANIA COMPANY

He Was Angered Because of Failure to Get Quorum of Committee.

There were lively doings at the meeting of Allegheny select council yesterday afternoon. According to a recent decision of the superior court the city is entitled to all of Smoky island, Kilbuck island and the "inside channel," and Councilman John M. Robinson of the Fourth ward wants the city solicitor to move immediately to secure possession of it. He asked for a resolution to that effect, and it passed unanimously. Then Dr. Andrew Easton of the Third ward came forward with a grievance, and for several minutes Dr. Easton stood squarely in the center of the stage. Dr. Easton is chairman of a special committee, appointed to inquire into the right of the Pennsylvania Company to occupy that portion of Church avenue south of South park, from Federal street to Marion avenue.

Dr. Easton has had hard work getting his committee together. He stated yesterday that he had issued six calls for a meeting, but has not yet been able to secure a quorum. Yesterday he offered a resolution instructing the city solicitor to begin legal proceedings to evict the Pennsylvania Company from the street in dispute. He asked to have it passed under a suspension of the rules, but it failed, the vote being 5 to 5.

Later, Dr. Easton introduced another resolution of a similar nature. It asked the city solicitor to proceed against the Pennsylvania Company for possession of Church avenue from Federal street to Marion avenue. Dr. Easton became considerably excited. He poured some hot shot into the members of his committee for not attending, and stated that one member was in the employ of the Pennsylvania Company and should not have been appointed on the committee. Finally he withdrew his motion, feeling convinced that it would not pass, it being stated by a member that until the special committee had made some report on it that the matter was out of the hands of councils.

When Dr. Easton had concluded his remarks President Torrance took a quiet slap at Director of Public Works McIlvain. The latter had asked for the transfer of $10,000 from several appropriations to the appropriation for the bureau of highways. Included in this was $4,000 appropriated especially for improvements to the market house. The improvements have never been made. Director McIlvain was not at the meeting and President Torrance remarked: "It is the duty of the director to attend meetings of councils, but he generally stays away at times when his presence is needed to explain some important act of his department." The ordinance was laid over.

The ordinance fixing the manner of construction of the sidewalks in McClure avenue, under the tracks of the Fort Wayne railroad, amended by select some time ago, was killed, and the compromise ordinance, adopted by common council, was adopted. The following measures passed finally:

Ordinances transferring $2,500 from contractors' claims to printing, advertising, stationery, etc.; sewer in Howard street; grading and repaving South Canal street; curbing and laying flagstone pavements on the north side of Kenwood avenue, at the expense of the abutting property owners; changing the name of Charles street, from Elwood avenue to Linwood avenue, to "Maryland avenue."

Sickness Again Stops Hearing.

The hearing in the case against the directors of the State bank in Bloomfield, which became insolvent some months ago, was again postponed yesterday afternoon because of the illness of Attorney John Marron. Next Wednesday has been set for a hearing. The illness of Alderman S. J. Toole prevented a hearing being held last week.

EASTERN FOOTBALL TEAM TOO STRONG FOR LOCAL ELEVEN

SHADYSIDE TEAM BADLY BEATEN

Lawrenceville Won 24 to 0, and Pittsburgh Boys Helped Down Their Old Team.

GOAL NEVER WAS IN DANGER

Special Telegram from Richard Guy, Staff Correspondent.

LAWRENCEVILLE, N. J., Oct. 19.—Lawrenceville school won from Shadyside Academy in football this afternoon on the Lawrenceville field in a hard, gruelling contest 24 to 0. It was Shadyside's first defeat to a prep school eleven in five years and the team that accomplished the trick that all other preps in Western Pennsylvania and Ohio failed to do was much heavier, which proved to be the winning power.

Shadyside never threatened the Lawrenceville goal line, the nearest being at the close of the battle on the 30-yard line. Lawrenceville got two touchdowns and two goals in the first half. Don McKaig, the right half on the Shadyside team last year, scoring both touchdowns. Then in the second period McKaig sent the ball over the line for the third, a goal resulting. The fourth was made by Seigling and goal resulted again by Waller.

Lawrenceville is rated as one of the best prep schools in the east and it lived up to its reputation today. Its line was heavier than the Pittsburghers, got its plays off well and the ends, aided by the heavy men on the forward line, blocked the attempts at runs around them. The Shadyside fought the local boys even for about ten minutes of the first half, but the weight soon began to tell. Capt. Arch Williams fought over the game like a trojan and as the teams were leaving the field at the end of the battle he remarked: "Well, I guess we fought them hard."

Williams began the game by kicking to Graves on the 15-yard line. He got back 10 yards. On the first line-up Uptegraff nailed Orr on an attempted run for no gain. Graves got three yards through center and then Orr kicked to McCracken out of bounds at the 35-yard line. A fake kick for Williams one yard, Dick Neuller tore off three on an end run; McCracken two on a line buck and then Williams punted 35 yards. The ball was worked up and down the field. From almost the middle of the field Orr got around the Shadyside end for a 40-yard run, putting the ball on the three-yard line. McKaig was shoved over for a touchdown and Waller kicked goal. Shadyside jumped into the game with renewed vigor after the touchdown. On an exchange of punts Lawrenceville got the ball in mid-field and started toward the Shadyside goal line again. McKaig, Orr and Kennedy were used with the ball, McKaig having it the most. Straight line bucks and the ability of the men to pull along the runner resulted in another touchdown, McKaig going on the left side of the line. Waller kicked goal, putting the score at 12 to 0 just as the half was up.

McKaig footed the oval to Williams on the one-yard line at the start of the second half. Williams got the ball 15 yards, but on the first line-up Jim McCutcheon lost one yard at end. He was again tried and fumbled, but recovered. He then punted to mid-field. McKaig tore off 10 yards on end, then nine yards and Orr crashed around Uptegraff's end for 10 more. McKaig put the ball on the eight-yard line and Seigling put it on the three-inch line. McKaig took it over for the third touchdown. Waller kicked goal. Shadyside secured the ball on a kick on its 35-yard line. Williams was hurdled back for a loss, but Patterson got around end for eight yards and then McCoy raised Shadyside's hopes by leaping through the right tackle for three yards. He was again entrusted with the ball, but fumbled. McKaig picked it up and ran back 12 yards before Williams and McCracken brought him to the ground. Steady line bucks took the ball over for the last touchdown. Seigling carrying it. Waller kicked goal. When the game was ended Shadyside had the ball on Lawrenceville's 30-yard line. The line-up:

Shadyside—0.		Lawrenceville—24.

Doyle, Marshall Cochran, Henry Lloyd, Cadwell Armstrong, Harry Armstrong, Roy Holland, Ed Orrig, Bob Christy, Ed Trent, Don Hamilton, "Spook" McClintock, Jack Chislett, Ralph Martin and Charles Koehne. WILL DO LIGHT TRAINING.

McGraw Orders His Giants to Keep in Good Shape to Meet the Boston Team.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The action of John T. Brush in expressing his willingness to allow the New York National league team to engage in both ante-season and post-season games, came as a great surprise to the Giants, who thought that no amount of public condemnation could dissuade Mr. Brush from his intention to permanently ignore the American league.

Brush has taken his first step to prove the sincerity of his assertions by instructing Manager McGraw to see that the Giants will not be caught napping in the event of the National league supporting his views regarding ante-season and post-season contests with the American league. McGraw, consequently, has ordered his players to indulge in light training until March 1, when they will be taken south and put through a siege of hard work.

McGraw's order was issued in anticipation of an ante-season series with the Boston American league club, the members of which have indorsed Brush's suggestions, as stated in his letters to President Pulliam. The Giants are happy at the opportunity of meeting the world's champions. Several of them have notified President Brush that they will be ready to play Collins' team in less than four weeks after they report for spring practice.

Let Spear feather your nest.

ONLY REGULAR PLAYERS WILL BE ALLOWED IN GAME

State and Wash.-Jeff. Representatives Pledge Themselves—W. U. P. Will Not Meet Shadyside.

The football managers stopped talking yesterday and got down to hard work. State and W. and J. devoted their time to completing plans for Saturday's game at Exposition park, while Western university practiced hard for an hour on the field and spent the other part of the day in planning for the excursion to Beaver Saturday for the Geneva game.

C. E. Aull of State and W. S. Crubbs of W. and J. met here in the afternoon and counted the tickets for the game. The tickets were placed on sale here at 3 o'clock and the sale was brisk from the start. The tickets sent to Washington will be on sale there early this morning. When the representatives of the rival colleges came together they discovered that neither knew the line-up of the other's team. Each gave assurance that there will not be any ringers in the big game, and as evidence of good faith wired to the captains of the respective elevens for the line-up for Saturday. This information should be received here today. W. and J. thinks it has a good chance to get even with State for the defeat sustained here last Thanksgiving day, but it cannot afford to play any other than its regular team. State has not done any boasting, but word comes from Bellefonte that the team has been making a good showing in its practice this week and is confident of downing W. and J. again.

W. U. P. put in some good licks at practice yesterday afternoon. The players who were bruised and battered in Saturday's game have recovered. Joe Thompson had a lame shoulder, but he was able to use it yesterday. The students are interested in the Geneva game and the trip will help to arouse college spirit. One department is planning to take a band to Geneva and show Geneva some old-fashioned coaching.

Susquehanna will meet W. U. P. at Exposition park October 26, and it looks now as if California Normal will be the attraction for October 29. It is impossible for W. U. P. to play Shadyside on account of the strong feeling of the student body against it.

HAMILTON, MASS., Oct. 19.—Harvard won the intercollegiate golf championship for the seventh time today, defeating Yale in the final round of team matches on the links of the Myopia Hunt club, 13½ to 7. Three Harvard men and two Yale players won their matches, while the leaders of the two teams, H. C. Egan and Max Behr, were even up at the end of the day's play of 36 holes.

The Crimson victory was due to the steady work of Malcolm McBurney, W. E. Egan and W. C. Chick, all three of whom won their matches decisively. The Yale winners were W. Clow and R. Abbott.

NEGRO MILITARY COMPANY.

Residents of Thirteenth Ward Have Organized the Pittsburgh Guards.

The Pittsburgh Guards is the latest military organization in this city. The organization has made application to court of common pleas No. 2 for a charter. If it is granted it will secure an armory and proceed with its regular business at once.

The Guards has been in existence for over a year. The members have been meeting around at different houses. Some of them are uniformed and equipped. It is proposed now to increase the number of members, secure an armory, uniform the men, and have one of the crack military companies of the city. The courts have rather frowned upon chartered military organizations and but few companies now exist. However, an occasional charter is granted and the Pittsburgh Guards propose to make the attempt to secure a charter. The application will be made by Attorney J. Welfred Holmes, November 30.

WHERE PITTSBURGH BUYS SHOES

The one busy shoe store in town seems to be that of the W. M. Laid Company, Nos. 404, 406 and 408 Market street. Since the removal of this firm from Smithfield street last March they have been crowded to take care of their trade at their original stand in Market street, and have enlarged, remodeled and improved the three buildings there to a great extent, and the result is, a continual throng of buyers—but it's the old story, "If you can't find it at Laird's you can't find it any place." Lairds have the shoe you want—man, woman or child.

SECRET PRACTICE BY BIG ELEVENS

Coaches Are Having the Hardest Kind of Work—Yale Works on a New Formation.

TIGERS IN VERY POOR SHAPE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 19.—Yale went into secret football practice today for one half, followed by two periods of lively "open" scrimmaging. In the public work the varsity eleven played brilliant and poor football, first-class work in rushing the ball and indifferently in handling punts. The varsity scored once in each half with comparative ease after the ball had been carried to within striking distance of the goal line. The development of the eleven in team work has been perceptible since last Saturday, and today that feature of play was encouraging. A new formation that was perfected in secret was shown once in the open half. On the kick-off one of the ends and the fullback stand in the forward line, but Shevlin is moved back from end to fullback. His strong running back of kicks makes him too valuable to be far forward. He thus plays a combination game, fullback until scrimmaging begins and end thereafter.

Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Harvard had another day of wretched football in her daily practice today with third and fourth string men on the varsity, as most of the regulars are laid up by slight injuries. It was expected that the coaches would accomplish considerable with the men this week, but only one or two of the men who played against the cadets Saturday have been able to go into the scrimmages so far this week. Meier and Hallstead are the only two men who have faced the seconds. There are serious injuries bothering the Harvard squad, but the number of slight injuries is much larger than usual.

Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—From what can be learned of the Tigers' second secret practice, which was held today, the same general hard luck which has now come to be taken by the college quite as a matter of course, was much in evidence. The scrub gave the varsity an all-around hammering, three times gaining possession of the ball on downs and scoring one touchdown to the varsity's nothing. The ball was in the varsity's territory the greater part of the time, and the scrub, which generally had possession of the ball, tore it gaily through the varsity's defense line for long gains. The gains were chiefly made through the left end and tackle, and the coaches appear to have about given up the idea of improving this part of the line. After the scrimmage the coaches gave the team a long and instructive sermon on the evils that result from most of the things the varsity either did or did not do, on the field today and how to do the other things in the future.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Mayor Johnson, with a big advantage in the weights, beat Rusk, the Canadian sprinter, in the feature event at Worth today. Rusk was backed from 13 to 5 to 9 to 5. LIPTON STILL HOPES.

Has Not Given Up Idea of Challenging for the Cup—Hard to Find a Designer.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Discussing the probabilities of a challenge for the America's cup, the Yachting World says: "Many have taken it for granted that all proposals had been definitely shelved, as Thomas Lipton was concerned, but there is less justification for the assumption that his regretable withdrawal means the total collapse of all chances of an immediate reopening of the contest. Kenneth M. Clarke, one of the foremost Clyde racing owners, dropped his aspirations when Lipton moved again, but his interests in this international phase of sport remains unabated, and recent negotiations bring it well within the bounds of possibility that he may enter this contest."

Sir Thomas Lipton was shown the Yachting World's article today and said to The Associated Press that he has abandoned the idea of challenging for the America's cup. He had, he said, faced great difficulties in securing a designer, but he had not given up. He had given George L. Watson carte blanche in the matter of securing a boat and was still hopeful of success.

AMATEUR HOCKEY LEAGUE.

New President Elected and League Will Be Enlarged.

The Library hockey team of the Duquesne Amateur Hockey league held a successful meeting which was attended by a large number of amateur hockey stars, who handed in their names as candidates, among whom were many prominent players. It was decided by the members of the club to hold a dance on Thursday evening, which will be given at Irving team, who was president of the league last year, has resigned and Mr. O. G. Mayer has been elected to succeed him, and no doubt will make a very successful president.

Last year the Duquesne Amateur Hockey league was one of the most promising amateur leagues that played at the gardens, as the teams composing it were made up of fast amateur players. At a meeting some time ago it was decided to add another team to the league, which will make the total membership four. President Meyer has received quite a few applications for team membership, but as yet has not decided on what teams will compose the league.

PRINCETON'S AUTO CLUB.

Pittsburgh Boy is President of the New Organization.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 19.—The Princeton University Automobile club, with 30 members enrolled, was organized last night and elected Childs Frick, '05, Pittsburgh, son of H. C. Frick, president. Extensive runs will be made this season.

The first speed trials will commence on November 1.

McClelland Is in Demand.

Jack McClelland is in demand at present. They want him near Boston to meet Jimmy Briggs. Ben Benton, who runs the club down there writes to Jimmy Mason that he will put the Pittsburgher on at the next show. Mason cannot accept as McClelland is to fight Benny Yanger at St. Louis on November 3, and he will have to be in the best of shape to meet such a hard opponent.

THE MANCHESTER TEAM WILL BE IN LINE AGAIN

Basketball Season Will Be a Lively One, and the Fives Will All Be Strengthened.

After the season of mishaps and hard luck through which it passed last year, the report was current throughout Allegheny that the Manchester basketball team would not be in existence again this season, but a glance at the line-up will show that they will not only be in the field once more but, also, that they will be able to put up a faster game than at any other time since their organization. There will be three new faces on the team this year, but they are faces which are very well known to the basketball followers of this vicinity. Koch will be seen at his old place at left forward. Patterson, the star goal shooter and mainstay of the crack Geneva college team, and Yeager, the leading point-getter for Pittsburgh Lyceum last season, will also be seen at forward. Metzkes, Manchester's old center and Stehle, formerly with Hans Wagner's Carnegie team and Allegheny Lyceum, will do the jumping at center. Burry and Graham, who have been the regular guards on the team for the past four years, will again serve in that capacity this season.

At a meeting held recently, S. W. Graham was elected manager and captain, and William F. Roth, who managed the team for three years up until last season, was elected treasurer. It is the purpose of the management to run six games each month on the home floor. A league game will be played every Monday night at home and a game with some out-of-town team every other Thursday night. The opening game at home will probably be with the Junction team of Beaver Valley on Thursday, November 1. One or two games will be played on foreign floors before this opening event at home, so that the boys will be in first-class shape for their first exhibition before a home audience.

All first-class teams in Western Pennsylvania and vicinity are requested to communicate with S. W. Graham, 1305 Juniata street, Allegheny, Pa., for games with the Manchester team. Those desiring early dates please write at once.

THE HERMITAGE AND WILDWOOD PARK
The Country Estate of the Late
A. SWAN BROWN

of New York 579 acres of unmutilated forest, parts of it wild, with out-cropping ledges and in primeval condition, mature pine and chestnut groves and open cultivated country; all elevated (from 500 to 1,000 feet above sea level), overlooking the city of Worcester, Massachusetts, and surrounding country, and mostly within the city limits, although extending over the Leicester line.

Divided: 274 acres with The Hermitage and twelve viewly lots, all suitable for country estates. One of the most remarkable, fascinating and charming private reservations in all New England, which the executors have determined shall be sold, however great a sacrifice may result. It is just as nature made it, and not yet of extreme value. The sale will take place upon the premises, regardless of weather, on THURSDAY, the 27th day of October, 1904, beginning promptly at 1 o'clock, noon.

The Hermitage Lot

Famous for its deed carved in solid rock and for its commanding varied views, possesses 274 acres of land lying between the Worcester Speedway, the Tatnuck Country Club and the City Reservoir, and overlooking Coes Reservoir and Patch's Pond, with attractive winding wooded driveways from Main street, 1¾ miles) and Mill street (Speedway) (¾ mile). The Hermitage of rustic architecture, in wood and stone, nearly in the center of the area, has 9 chambers, dressing rooms, linen closets, 2 bathrooms, 3 toilet rooms and the usual living rooms. It is completely furnished. Vista Lodge is a unique cottage, with billiard room (and table), bathroom, toilet room and chambers, partially furnished. The stables, arranged for 7 horses, have ample carriage room and dog kennels. These buildings cost, with the furnishings, upward of $20,000, and are a little less than 4 miles from the business center of Worcester. They are abundantly supplied with water, by gravity from several springs upon the premises, and lighted, as are the grounds, by their own gas plant. The property is in nice condition and established but nine years. In the division of Wildwood Park great care has been exercised to make each lot independent of the others.

Lots 2, 3, 4 and 5, on Fowler street, opposite the summer estate of J. R. Torrey and the Tatnuck Country Club, command a view of Asnebunskit and contain from 14 to 30 acres each. These lots form natural terraces, the difference in level being such that the buildings on one cannot interfere with the others, and all command equally good views.

The Glen

Lot 6, 36 acres, long famous as a sketching ground for artists, is one of the most beautiful, picturesque and restful spots in all Massachusetts. Running across it is a delightful brook, forming magnificent cascade. Many of the largest trees are on this lot, which is at the corner of

SOCIETY

As the voices of the surpliced boy choir, with Walter Hall at the organ, poured forth the Lohengrin march, the wedding of Miss Alice Knox Paul and Clarence Van Dyke Tiers took place last evening in St. Thomas Protestant Episcopal church, Oakmont. The Rev. Dr. Laurens McLure, rector of the church, solemnized the marriage at 8 o'clock, the bride being given away by her father, Harry S. Paul. Her sister, Miss Mary Lee Paul, was maid of honor, while Miss Susan Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Paul's youngest daughter, and Miss Susan Tiers, the youngest sister of the bridegroom, acted as bridesmaids. The best man was Herbert W. Tiers, a brother of the bridegroom, and completing the party were the ushers, C. Tabor Johnston, William M. Alexander, William Hepburn Tinsman and Robert W. Baurersmith.

Mrs. Paul and Mrs. La Rue Tiers, mother of the bridegroom, received with the young couple, at the reception following the ceremony. After the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Tiers left for New York where they will board the steamship Trinidad, sailing for the Bermudas on Saturday. On their return they will take possession of the old Paul homestead, the residence of the bride's grandfather, Jacob W. Paul, who leaves for his winter home in Grasmere, Florida, late this month. In the spring Mr. Tiers and his bride will enter their new home, which is now being erected near the new Oakmont Boat club. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ethelbert Nevin, an aunt of the bride; Edward Paul, an uncle; and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Metcalf, all of New York.

Bracken-Cooley.

Given away by her mother, Mrs. James S. Bracken, Miss Mary Frances Bracken became the wife of Walter King Cooley at 7 o'clock last evening, the wedding taking place at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Stoney, Jr., in South Negley avenue. The Rev. Dr. C. W. Wever of Homestead, a brother-in-law of the bride, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Daniel Dorchester, Jr., pastor of Christ Methodist Episcopal church. The bride's attendants were the maid of honor, Miss Laura A. Graff of Blairsville, and Miss Grace E. Cooley of Mt. Vernon, the bridesmaid. Edward M. West of Mt. Vernon served as best man. The ceremony was witnessed only by the immediate relatives, but at 8 o'clock a large reception was held, the bridal couple leaving afterward for their wedding trip. They are to be at home in Mt. Vernon after December. Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Grace Clarke, Miss Ethel Lewis, Miss Ethel Cooley and Mrs. Emma Cooley, sister and mother of the bridegroom, all of Mt. Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. John Bracken and Mrs. Harry Hershey of Hollidaysburg, and Ralph Smith of Blairsville. The bride is a daughter of the late Rev. Dr. J. S. Bracken, a former pastor of the Emory Methodist Episcopal church, and of the Union Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny. She is a graduate of the Pittsburgh Female college and at one time was instructor in mathematics there. Mr. Cooley is in the real estate business in Mt. Vernon.

Crawford-Hill.

There was a number of out-of-town guests at the wedding of Miss Florence Mabelle Crawford and Elgin Alexander Hill last evening, the list including the bride's grandmother, Mrs. R. G. MISTAKES OF THE DEVIL AND SOME OTHER FOLKS

The Rev. Dr. Robert Forbes.

"Mistakes of the Devil and Some Other Folks" will be entertainingly told this evening in the Emory Methodist Episcopal church, North Highland avenue, by the Rev. Dr. Robert Forbes, secretary of the board of church extension of the Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Forbes was recently in charge of the district of Northern Minnesota, and is reputed one of the great men of his denomination and a noted pulpit orator. He is remembered locally by his address before the Pittsburgh conference last

We hear your hair is very sick. That's too bad!

We had noticed it was looking pretty thin and faded of late, but naturally did not like to speak of it. By the way, Ayer's Hair Vigor is a regular medicine for sick hair. It keeps the hair strong and healthy, and checks falling hair. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

BELGIUM TRIES TO THWART HIM

Morel Finds Series of Intrigues Against His Mission for the Kongo Natives.

THINKS GIBBONS IS DECEIVED

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—In an interview today E. D. Morell, honorary secretary of the Kongo Reform association, who is in this country to arouse American public opinion against the alleged condition of virtual slavery in the Kongo Free State, said:

"From the time of my arrival here I have found an extraordinary series of intrigues on the part of the Belgian government to thwart me. When I first arrived there I found that Mr. Carton De Wiart, who is a personal friend of King Leopold, had been sowing the seeds of distrust and suspicion in men's minds and bringing out the usual misleading statements about England desiring political influence in the Kongo, and Englishmen wishing to participate in what is called by courtesy the Kongo rubber trade, which is in reality nothing but slavery of the worst possible type. Wherever I have been agents of the Belgian king have followed. There is nothing in the charges regarding the British. All political parties are agreed on better government for the Kongo country."

In speaking of Cardinal Gibbons' letter to the peace conference asking that the Kingo question be not taken up, Mr. Morell said: "I wish to say at once that I am quite certain that Cardinal Gibbons acted in perfect good faith, and I am equally certain that when he looks into the matter for himself he will very much regret having written that letter. No doubt he has been imposed upon like many others have been imposed upon."

Boy Disappeared at Recess.

John Williams, aged 10, son of Michael Williams of Gould alley, Homestead, disappeared from the Second ward (Homestead) school at recess Monday morning. His father yesterday asked the police to assist in searching for him.

If you haven't heard the Damrosch orchestra at the Exposition this week you'll regret it next week.

NEXT WEEK'S PLAYS.

Much Variety in the Stage Amusements to Be Offered Next Week.

In "The Serio-Comic Governess," which Daniel Frohman will present at the Nixon theater next week, Israel Zangwill has written a play that both manager and author regard as eminently suitable for the talent of Cecilia Loftus, who, after three years as an actress under the management of Mr. Frohman, is this season promoted to stellar honors.

A combination of unusually attractive features is embodied in the offering at the Avenue theater next week, where the Harry Davis stock company will be seen in a grand double bill, including a new and original one-act playlet, written by the favorite little ingenue, Miss Emma Dunn, entitled "Who Smokes The Cigars," followed by the Mansfield version of Robert Louis Stevenson's famous story, "Mr. Jekyll & Mr. Hyde."

Charley Grapewin and his own company of fifty people, come to the Duquesne next week in the musical comedy delectation, "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp." A most laughable story, which, without the musical eleborations and frills, would "carry" the show, furnishes many opportunities for Grapewin to do really serious work.

Henry Lee, widely known for his artistic impersonations of famous men, will be among the headliners, next week in a bill of 15 acts at the Grand Opera house. Other well known entertainers who will contribute are Cressy and Dayne, in their amusing character comedy sketch "The Village Lawyer;" Pewitt, "The Mysterious Face" and A. O. Duncan, ventriloquial comedian.

Human sympathy goes out to the weak and oppressed, nor is this limited to any particular sphere of life. The poor and lowly are just as susceptible to the cry for succor, even more so than the rich, and that is why the author of "Girl of the Streets" which comes to the Empire next week has written such a play.

"M'liss," a melodrama of the west with Nellie McHenry in the title role, is at the Bijou next week. The actress and the part have become to be associated together, for this is the fifth season "M'liss" has been before the public. New scenery has been furnished as well as properties even down to the rag doll, which "M'liss" carries in her mountain home.

If specialties were the only features offered by the Rose Hill English Folly company, which will commence a week engagement at the Academy next week there is sufficient talent on the program to comprise a first class vaudeville bill. There is funny George Rice, with his indescribable humor; T. F. Thomas the master of character comedy; Idylia Vyner, one of the cleverest of comediennes, and many others.

The Right Material The Wright Process

are what make right underwear—Wright's Health Underwear. The right material is wool—it is the natural body covering. The Wright process is the manner of weaving it into an outer fabric and an inner fleece composed entirely of tiny interlocking loops. The two are what make different and better. It is a health underwear in more than name. Cotton and linen will not absorb perspiration. Ordinary fleece lined wool feels good when first worn, but "stuffy" later on—the fleece mats in the wash, and excludes air from the pores. Wright's Health Underwear, being all loops, cannot mat—it retains all its properties until worn out. Sold by dealers for the price of ordinary kinds. Our valuable book "Dressing for Health" sent free on request.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but 25 cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

Whereupon, the said court made an order directing the sheriff of said Allegheny county to give notice, briefly stating the facts set forth in the petition to Robert Lowry, if found within said county of Allegheny, and residence known, and to all unknown parties interested in said mortgage, by public notice published in The Pittsburgh Gazette, published within the said county of Allegheny once a week for four successive weeks, requiring the said Robert Lowry and all other interested parties, to appear in court on or before Friday, the 25th day of November, 1904, and make claims, if and they have, for the payment of said mortgage, or on account thereof, or any part thereof, and answer said petition.

REACTION IN STOCKS, PRICES CLOSING LOWER

Market Very Feverish, and Sales Approximated 2,000,000 Shares—Break in Crucible on the Bad Annual Statement.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The sales on the New York stock exchange yesterday approximated 2,000,000 shares, and the dealings during the afternoon were relatively more active than during the first half of the session. It was a day of profit-taking, and the number of stop orders in the market at times threatened to bring about a genuine reaction. As it was, the declines in a few instances exceeded 2 per cent, a portion of which was recovered in the final rally, although as a rule closing prices showed net losses for the day of ½ to 1 per cent. There were reports that because of the fear of a runaway bull market, some of the leaders of the movement were selling stocks to check the rise, and one prominent Steel man was credited by rumor with throwing a large amount of United States Steel preferred on the market, solely to conserve its best interest. This statement may be taken with a grain of salt. The people in control of the market were apparently as much concerned lest the reaction should go so far as to frighten the public away as they were that the public would take the market out of their hands.

At the opening the tone was strong and higher prices were the rule. Very large blocks of Erie changed hands at sharp advances, and this movement extended to all the coal stocks, the result being a series of new high prices. Then the profit-taking occurred in the Steel stocks, and this had a chilling effect upon the remainder of the list. Steel common reacted from 22⅝ to 20¾ and the preferred from 82⅞ to 81. Similar declines occurred in the minor iron and steel stocks, but while these declines were in progress Colorado Fuel and Iron made a strong rally to 35¾. At the same time Consolidated Gas jumped to 220, the highest of the year, and United States Leather common crossed 14 and the preferred advanced to 92½.

The Erie issues and Reading were the only railroad stocks which closed at net gains, and the strength of the former confirmed some traders in the belief that the Erie would become an important part of a system that would include Union Pacific and St. Paul. Another rumor which had some effect was that at the next meeting of the Atchison board James Stillman, president of the National City bank, E. H. Harriman, head of the Union Pacific system, and one of the Rockefellers would be elected directors. This recalled the fact that the strong advance in Atchison a few weeks ago was accompanied by rumors of Rockefeller buying. Reports like these, taken in connection with the developments last week, lead the street to believe that important movements are occurring prior to the announcement of an amicable settlement of the Northern Securities controversy, and they revive the spirit of speculation which was so rampant two years ago, when all that was required to boom a stock was a rumor that it was being considered as a "link" in some larger system.

In the final dealings the market was very feverish. The low prices of the day occurred shortly after 2 o'clock, but in the last half hour many stocks made quick recoveries, which wiped out much of the previous loss. There has been enormous liquidation this week, and the transactions for three days exceeding 6,000,000 shares furnish conclusive evidence that the public is taking a large part in the dealings. The feeling in favor of ultimately higher prices is still very strong, but at the same time it is believed that the market will be healthier if the reaction continues for several days.

Call loan rates were easy and unchanged. Grain markets were firm and higher and closed at net gains. Wheat was helped by the announcement that the Minneapolis mills had ordered an advance of 15 to 20 cents a barrel for flour.

In the local stock market a third of the dealings consisted of National Fire Proofing preferred, but the interest in Crucible Steel dominated the market. Crucible preferred opened weak and lower at 40 and broke to 39. The annual report was not given out until afternoon, but traders evidently had an inkling of the figures, which proved to be more unfavorable as to net earnings than previous estimates. The preferred stock rallied slightly, but closed only a fraction above the lowest, the net loss for the day being 1⅞ per cent. The common stock was inactive, and after selling down to 6⅝, recovered to 6¾. National Fire Proofing preferred was the strong feature of the market, and on sales of 2,400 shares advanced to 31 ex-dividend, but reacted to 30¾ bid at the close. The common stock was neglected and remained unchanged at 8¾. Pittsburgh Brewing issues were more active than for some time past. The common rallied to 25⅜ and the preferred to 45½. Pittsburgh Coal preferred ranged within 71½@72⅛ and closed at 72. Union Switch and Signal advanced 2½ points to 74¼, and Electric advanced to 86⅛. American pig iron warrants were active and firm, with sales of 2,500 tons.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

There are two views to be taken of the Crucible Steel statement, which is printed in full in another column. The unfavorable view is this: Offsetting all the company's surplus earnings with the debts incurred, it is found that the company is $2,155,632 worse off than it was when it started business four years ago. Another way to put it would be to say that the company's capital has been impaired to the extent of $2,155,632. If the entire $7,000,000 authorized bonds are issued, there will be a fixed charge of $350,000 per annum ahead of dividends on the preferred stock, which are already in arrears for a year. The favorable view is this: Nearly $4,000,000 of the entire debt of the company was incurred on account of Clarton Steel. That drain upon Crucible has been cut short. Last year $1,000,000 was charged out of earnings for depreciation of inventory and this year nearly $700,000 was charged off for the same account. This is a very drastic marking down of values, and as the president remarks in his report, "This places the finished product at a lower valuation than it has been at any time during the existence of the company." Evidently the management does not begin the new fiscal year with everything down to bedrock. The authorization of bonds and the prior charge entailed thereby is not an actual increase in annual fixed charges, but is a substitution of a long-term bond for a short term bond, and for debts which probably involve a higher rate of interest than 5 per cent. Finally, the Clairton debts and all other drawbacks are matters of the past. The management ought to profit by the experience and avoid similar blunders in the future. The market yesterday took the unfavorable view, the preferred selling off to 50, because the net earnings were smaller than the previous lowest estimates. At the decline, however, there was a fair demand, and the market closed steady and a fraction above the lowest.

Only 5 shares Westinghouse Airbrake changed hands yesterday at 132, a decline of a point. A dispatch from New York stated that the United States circuit court had rendered a final decision in the case of the Westinghouse Airbrake Company against the New York Airbrake Company, awarding the former $128,397.40 with interest from July 27, 1901, for infringement on patents for airbrakes for freight cars. The sum payable to the Westinghouse Company is $154,572, exclusive of allowance for costs of suit.

Three bucketshops in Washington city suspended on Tuesday. A continuous rise in the market is invariably followed by mortality among bucketshops.

A reputable Wall street commission house gave currency to this in its market letter last night: "There was a rumor around the board that the selling in the Steel stocks proceeded from Mr. Frick, who pressed the preferred for sale with a view of stopping the advance in the general market, feeling that it was going too fast." An Associated Press dispatch to The Gazette, referring to the general movement, said: "There was nothing in the dealings to show that any effort was relaxed to sustain the market and to hold prices in face of the selling to take profits. The buying of selected stocks was even more aggressive and spectacular than heretofore and the stocks to be pushed were heralded before the market opened from the uptown hotels with the complacency which has distinguished the present campaign in stocks in a marked degree. Erie, St. Paul, Southern Railway, Atchison, Reading and Leather preferred were at different times churned into furious activity and long strings of transactions in blocks of 1,000 to 7,000 shares were run through the market on a rising scale. The determined selling of United States Steel preferred was the first incident to cause uneasiness and was not checked by the good tenor of the news from the trade, including an advance in Tube and Pipe and the cheerful expressions of the Iron Age. An admission of new interest to the directory of the Republic Iron and Steel Company occurred during the day, but attracted little attention. The rumor of new interests in Atchison took a more specific form again, but without confirmation."

The Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent, payable forthwith.

Northern Pacific directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent and an extra dividend of ½ of 1 per cent.

The rise in Pittsburgh Plate Glass is said to be based upon rumors that a deal is being negotiated for a consolidation of some of the smaller plate glass companies.

United States government 3s advanced ½ per cent on call in New York yesterday.

The gross earnings of Southern Pacific for the second week in October increased $62,963. Louisville & Nashville reported an increase of $82,000 and Missouri Pacific an increase of $56,000.

During the first two hours on the New York board yesterday one broker bought 30,000 shares Erie common, and another bought 7,000 shares Consolidated Gas.

T. H. Robinson of Robinsin Bros. will leave this evening with his family for California, where he will spend the winter.

Wall street dispatch: It is reported that at the next meeting of the board of directors of the Atchison company, which will be held within a short time, James Stillman, E. H. Harriman, one of the Vanderbilts, William Rockefeller or William G. Rockefeller will be elected members of the board. It will be remembered that a few weeks ago the statement was positively made in the street, rumor coming from first-class sources, that the Rockefeller interests had acquired a large amount of Atchison stock, the amount commonly reported being between 200,000 and 300,000 shares.

A New York stock exchange house wired this to its Pittsburgh correspondent: "We are as bullish as ever on Westinghouse Electric. This stock is very cheap and will surely go higher. It sold last January as high as 180 when all other stocks were 10 to 20 per cent lower."

The Reading directors declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent on the first preferred stock.

NEW YORK CLOSING B

ENCOURAGED ARE THE STEEL MEN

Outlook Still Better for Prosperous Winter and Business at Remunerative Prices.

PIG IRON WAS QUOTED HIGHER

Naught but encouragement is felt by the iron and steel manufacturers. Not a man was seen yesterday who thought there would be no improvement in the market. On the contrary, suppliers of raw material and makers of finished products were looking forward to a prosperous winter. The increase in quotations announced by the National Tube Company is considered to portend an advance in the market for wire and wire products, thin sheets and tin plate, not that any of them have any connection with tube, but because they and tube had been slashed down to a point where there was no profit in manufacturing them, and that if conditions justify higher quotations on one the others will be justified in following suit.

Consumers of pig iron find themselves confronted with the situation predicted in The Gazette for some time past. The price of pig iron went up. Blast furnace operators do not want to sell pig iron at the present prices. They anticipate greater value for their product the coming winter, and while some of them accept trade just now, it is only for the remainder of the year. The producers of foundry iron have notably refused to furnish material, not only at the present prices, but even at an advance of 65 to 70 cents. Stocks of foundry iron on hand have been depleting for some time past. Last spring blast furnace proprietors, rather than shut down, preferred to run at a little sacrifice, accepting unprofitable orders, but now they want a better margin of profit, for they feel that better prices are coming.

The same factors affect the coke market. Coke will go up, not only because the market has that tendency, but because the drought in the Connellsville region is causing furnace after furnace to cease operations because of lack of water.

Possible Shortage of Ore.

When an active market for pig iron does come the ore supply will become a serious question. During the past summer the prices of ore were not tempting, and mine owners preferred to pile their ore at the upper lake ports, to await a better market. Now, navigation will close on November 1, and while the supply of ore at the lower lake ports is sufficient, in case the inquiry for iron should not be excessive, yet if the predictions of an extraordinary demand bear fruit, there will be a serious shortage of ore, for with navigation closed the piles at the upper lake ports will be unavailable. The practical withdrawal of the Alabama pig iron producers from the market until they can secure better prices contributes to the situation. It was rumored yesterday that the United States Steel Corporation intended to buy 40,000 tons of Bessemer iron, but persons who ought to know said it was a mere rumor, or at least that the big steel company had not yet begun any negotiations.

The billet pool will probably not advance prices merely because the National Tube Company yesterday raised its quotations. As said before, tube was selling at low prices and an advance had to be made to prevent operations at almost a loss. Billets may not go up until the makers of tube, thin sheets, tin and wire and wire products have recuperated from the disastrous prices prevailing for the last four weeks. The tube mills are now operating to the limit, and rough orders are said to be on hand to run them some months. Wire, sheets and tin are looking up.

The Hardware Market.

The hardware business continues to move along in much the same manner as at our last report, good orders coming in freely from road salesmen and from the trade generally, carrying forward our predictions that the fall business would be good. Large quantities of season goods are moving forward, our records showing larger sales than ever on these goods. There is no reason why this should not continue, and that by far the largest business that has been done in years will be shown in these lines. Nails and wire continue to move out in large quantities, the trade evidently keeping themselves well supplied for current use and keeping a good stock on hand in the event of a change in price. A very good business continues in sporting goods, such as shotguns, rifles, ammunition and hunting equipment. A good business also is noted in masury paints, colors and varnishes and in window glass, which is moving out much better, considering stocks and assortments, than it has for some time past. Prices on general lines continue firm, no recent changes being noted.

The Bindley Hardware Company furnishes the following quotations: Columbia pocket knives, discount 50 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount 40 and 10 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $6 50 a dozen; Great Western files, discount 70 and 10 per cent; sheet iron, base $26, $2 35 the 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount 70 and 10 per cent; sash weights, a ton, $27; window glass, L. C. L. 90 and 15 from list, October 1, 1903; C. L. prices on application; Albion planing machines, discount 25 per cent; blue and white enameled ware, 60 and 10 per cent; Albion gas stoves, 40 per cent; Albion lanterns, 40 per cent; fire shovels and pokers, 40 and 10 per cent.

PIG IRON PRICES SHOW SATISFACTORY INCREASE

Large Eastern Sales Carry Values Up About 25 Cents a Ton—May Go Higher.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

There has developed during the past week a pronounced change in the attitude of many sellers and buyers of pig iron, and an advance has been established practically all along the line. The situation is somewhat complex, however. In the east there have been large sales, aggregating probably upward of 100,000 tons of basic, forge and foundry pig iron, which have carried values up about 25 cents a ton, with some makers now asking 50 cents a ton more. The greater part of the transactions are for delivery before the close of the year, although there are instances of sales running well into next spring.

The Alabama furnace interests have put up prices by increments of 50 cents a ton until they are on the basis of $10 50 and $11 for No. 2 foundry at Birmingham. They have, however, not done much business—in fact, at the figures now asked they are considerably above the parity of the prices of northern irons in the great markets of the central west and northwest.

Some of the furnaces along the lakes and in the Chicago district have made some good sales at an advance for early delivery, and are demanding considerably higher prices for 1905 delivery. In some sections, notably in the Mahoning valley, a pause has followed and buyers are holding off somewhat.

There is some talk that some of the large steel interests have actually or are about to enter the market for pig iron. This is true, owing to special circumstances of one large plant. The leading interest, however, is not expected to become a buyer, but as a matter of fact, from present indications, will blow out a number of stacks before the close of the year. Bids were asked for a round lot of basic pig for one of the subsidiary plants in the Philadelphia district, but since the figures submitted hovered close to $13 delivered, it was decided to draw the supplies from the company furnaces in the Pittsburgh district, as being more advantageous. It is observed that some of the purchases of basic pig in the east were made by steel works who are far from running at full capacity and are therefore in anticipation of future orders for finished material. The upshot is that the pig iron markets are decidedly stronger and higher, but that the excitement is still too great to determine the extent of hardening.

It all depends upon whether the demand for finished material is going to increase permanently and to what extent. The outlook is encouraging from many indications. The car companies have taken some good orders, aggregating about 10,000 cars during the past two weeks, with negotiations pending for more. The lake shipbuilders have taken on additional contracts from various sources, and it is expected that on Friday the United States Steel Corporation will place an order for four vessels of the largest size, the plans calling for boats of a capacity of 12,000 net tons. Fair orders are coming up for structural material, the Wabash having placed 5,000 tons for the Pittsburgh terminal this week, while the Lackawanna company has ordered a 2,500 ton bridge at Buffalo.

The discounts on merchant pipe have been revised, thus establishing an advance of about $2 a ton. Among the recent orders is a lot of 2,000 tons for a pipe line for India.

In this city the order for 12,000 tons of cast iron pipe has not yet been placed by the successful contractor.

ANOTHER CUT IN SUGAR RESULT OF JOBBERS' WAR

Fresh Eggs Are Scarce—Produce Business Is Brisk and Prices Are Firm.

The sugar war between the jobbers in Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania resulted in another cut in sugar yesterday. All grades went down 10 points. The price affects only the territory in which the war is on and the chief losers are the jobbers themselves. The price at which sugar is quoted now is really such that there is no profit in it for the jobber. The only man who has any room to smile is the refiner, and he is not particularly elated over the situation and would be much happier if the war should cease.

Good fresh eggs, strictly fresh stock, are scarcer than ever this week. There is little difficulty in getting above the market quotation of 23 cents for the right kind of stock. The rise in butter is looked upon by the dealers as a move which should have come sooner, and the price, they say, is still not within the money-making range. They expect a rise of another cent within a week, or at most, two.

Cheese is firm all along the line. The factories will be closing in about another month, as the pasture is all done and it scarcely pays to feed cows for cheese making. The price is thought to be about fixed for the season.

There was plenty doing in the produce lines yesterday and business was good. All lines held firm and there were few changes in prices. The absence of all summer fruits and vegetables from the market, such as canteloupes, melons, etc, is not noticed in the abundance of other autumn products that are rolling in. Apples and potatoes are the most plentiful thing in the market, there being 70 carloads of carloads of apples and 90 of potatoes in the yards. The receipts of fruit and produce were:

Apples, 11 cars, making 70; bananas, 4, making 5; cabbage, 4, making 27; celery, 2, making 10; grapes, 4, making 30; onions, 1, making 15; oranges 1, making 2; pears, 1, making 23; potatoes, 11, making 90; turnips, 1, making 7; miscellaneous, 4, making 20.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts of hay and grain at the several railroad yards yesterday were as follows: Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 3 cars hay, 1 car oats, 1 car feed; Baltimore & Ohio, 1 car hay; Pennsylvania lines, 28 cars oats, 8 cars corn, 7 cars hay, 1 car rye, 2 cars straw, 4 cars feed.

In spite of heavy receipts of oats yesterday the market held firm. Hay of all kinds is scarce and particularly good hay. The farmers seem to be holding back for a better market and there is an imminent prospect of a rise in the near future unless more stock gets in. Rye is holding up stiffly and every carload that comes in is readily sold at the full quotation. The corn market has not passed up any and there is a prospect that corn is going to be pretty high-priced this coming winter. Conservative dealers say that selling oats and buying corn on long options is a good move just now.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Indications are that the output of Cripple Creek for October will be the largest on record.

The lode mines in the vicinity of Breckenridge are shipping a greater tonnage than for a number of years. The local sampler is doing an increasing business, with nearly every bin occupied with ore ready for shipment or for "mixing."

Operations on the Gold Sovereign are being pushed forward at a rapid rate, and better than two carloads of ore a day are being shipped from the property.

The ore shipments from the Idaho Springs depot for the nine months ending September 30, amounted 1,175 carloads. For the same period in 1903 the shipments were 898 carloads, showing an increase for this year of 30.8 per cent.

The Anaconda Copper Company has declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 50 cents a share.

Construction work on the big cyanide plant to be erected by the Little Giant company in Pony gulch, west of Cripple Creek, is to be started very shortly, word having been received from the east that the money for it has been raised. By the erection of these works it means that the monthly output of gold from the district is to be raised considerably.

Annual Statement of Crucible Steel Company Contains But Little Encouragement.

J. D. LYON ELECTED DIRECTOR

The statement of the Crucible Steel Company's operations for the 12 months ending August 31, was given out yesterday at the stockholders' annual meeting in Jersey city. Although the most important phases of the statement has been forecasted, it will be read with interest, for the Crucible Steel Company is a local corporation and many Pittsburghers have invested in its shares.

The report of President Frank B. Smith shows that the net earnings of the company were more than $1,000,000 less than in the year 1903, the net earnings for 1904 being $488,160 33. As President Smith explains, however, these net earnings remain after $695,640 of the gross earnings was charged off for depreciation in value of inventory and $65,558 50 for doubtful and disputed accounts receivable. The financial statement shows that the loss on the sale of the Clairton Steel Company to the United States Steel Corporation was nearly $4,000,000.

The stockholders authorized an issue of $7,000,000 first mortgage, 5 per cent bonds, one series to mature in five years and the remainder annually thereafter for 20 years. The bonds are to be secured by mortgage and are not to be issued under 95. They will be used to retire $5,000,000 short term, 6 per cent bonds, cancel bills payable, aggregating $940,187, purchase the outstanding stock of the Park Steel Company, amounting to $235,100, and provide for future betterment and development. These objects were stated in President Smith's report.

W. P. Snyder did not stand for re-election as a director, his active interest in the company having ceased after the Clairton plant was sold, and J. D. Lyon of N. Holmes & Sons, bankers, was elected in his place. This was done at the demand of the "outside" stockholders. The following is the financial statement:

In accounting for the reduced earnings President Smith says:

These reduced earnings as shown may be attributed largely to the heavy decline in prices of pig iron, billets, scrap and other materials entering into the manufacture of steel and to the corresponding reductions in prices at which we were obliged to market our product sold on competitive lines, as well as the decrease in the volume of business generally, there being periods during the year when we were obliged to partially, and in some cases wholly, close down some of our mills.

On September 1, 1903—a period which witnessed the beginning of a dull year in manufacturing lines, carrying with it constantly decreasing values—we had on hand an unusually large stock.

The necessity of keeping the Clairton plant in full operation compelled this company to take from the Clairton Steel Company its surplus product, and we gave them orders accordingly which we would not have done with an outside concern. This material was charged to, and inventoried by us, at the high market prices prevailing at that time. This, of course, seriously affected the profits during the earlier months of the year and until this stock was exhausted.

In placing figures of value on the inventory, we endeavored as nearly as possible to make a relative reduction over the previous year consistent with the market prices and cost of production, and in order that the values might be unquestionably safe, a further considerable reduction was made on all finished stock on hand. This places the finished product at a lower valuation than it has been at any time during the existence of the company.

Continuing President Smith says the Consumers Heating Company was sold for $50,000, $201,000 was charged off upon the investment in the Canton Steel Company's stock and repairs to plants were charged to operating expenses. After explaining, as outlined above, why the stockholders were asked to authorize the issue of $7,000,000 of bonds, he concludes:

It is the purpose of the board of directors to dispose of these bonds, from time to time as the needs of the company may require, at not less than 95 net, over and above all expenses and commissions, the stockholders to have the first right to subscribe.

In the month of September the volume of business was equal only to the average of the past year, but so far the month of October shows considerable improvement. Orders are coming in much more freely and we look for a steady gain both in amount of sales and in profit.

MAINTAINING THE REPUTATION OF THE THIRTY-FOOT SAND

The latest reports from the Delmar Oil Company's gusher on the Hays farm, on Bartholomew run, Marion county, W. Va., gave the production at 24 barrels an hour. This well, like the South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 on the C. S. Pitzer farm, is maintaining the reputation of the 30-foot sand for its staying qualities. The Delmar company has made locations for Nos. 2 and 3 on the Hays farm, 500 feet southeast and east, respectively, from the gusher. With no other promising territory in sight this district promises to be very lively for a time. The South Penn is drilling two on the Pitzer farm. Trees & Benedum are drilling one on the J. Holden and building the rig for No. 2, and have made the location for No. 3. On Buffalo run, the Southern Oil Company is ready to start the drill at a test on the Homer Bennett farm.

On Churchs Fork, near Burton, Wetzel county, the Fisher Oil Company has drilled its No. 5 on the Moses Lezer farm through the Maxon sand and found it barren. In the Littleton district, Wetzel county, the South Penn has drilled its test on the A. T. White farm 25 feet into the strat and has developed no oil or gas. In the Pine Grove extension the same company has drilled its No. 3 on the M. Jackson farm into the strat and has not found the pay.

On the east side of the Folsom district, Harrison county, the South Penn has drilled its test on the M. G. Atha farm to a depth of 3,086 feet and found nothing but a fair gas pressure in the 50-foot. The same company has drilled its No. 13 on the G. W. Talkington farm 20 feet into the Gordon and has a light showing of oil.

On Indian creek, McElroy district, Tyler county, F. M. Selby & Co. have completed and shot their test on the Dye-Brooks farm and have a 10-barrel pumper in the Keener sand. In the same district J. H. McElroy & Co. have drilled their test on the H. C. and Elbert Williamson farm through the Big Injun and have a duster. In the Big Injun development, near Wick, in the same county, the Melrose Oil and Gas Company has drilled its test on the T. C. H. Ewell farm 38 feet into the Big Injun and has a show for a 40-barrel producer. The same company's No. 4 on the T. H. Ewell farm is still producing 110 barrels and the Carter Oil Company's No. 6 on the J. W. Ankrom farm 180 barrels a day.

In the Burning Springs district, Wirt county, the Quinto Oil Company has completed its test on the Fox-Mueller tract and has a gasser in the Big Injun at a depth of 1,435 feet.

On the Ohio side one and one-half mile northwest of Dillonvale, Jefferson county, the Perrine-Linn Oil & Gas Company has completed and shot its test on the Rowland Craig farm and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper in the Berea grit.

Near Leetsdale, Beaver county, John Boies has completed No. 4 on his own farm and since giving it a shot has a show for an 8-barrel pumper.

SIXTH AVENUE PROPERTY SOLD

Frank Torchia Secured No. 545 from Dr. X. O. Werder for $22,000.

GOOD SALE NEAR CATHEDRAL

The sale was reported yesterday of the property at 545 Sixth avenue for $22,000. Last year Dr. X. O. Werder bought the lot for $17,500 and added one story to the one-story brick building. The present buyer is said to be Frank Torchia, the Italian banker, who takes the property for an investment. The lot measures 24x145 feet and is about midway between Fifth and Wylie avenues and near the First German Evangelical Lutheran church. It is directly over the Pennsylvania railroad tunnel and in case of the hump being removed would be only four feet above the tunnel.

A good sell in the cathedral district was the purchase by Charles H. Kerr of the firm of Kerr & Fox of 149 North Craig street for $15,000 cash. The property belonged to Mrs. Louise Hatry and was sold through the agency of E. C. Rowley. It is the fifth property north of the new St. Paul's cathedral on the west side of Craig street, and measures 44x180 feet. The residence is a nine-room reception hall brick house, which the buyer will remodel at a cost of $8,000 and occupy as a home.

A report was current yesterday that the frontage of the Rebecca Sterrett estate in Bellevue had been bought by two North Side business men for about $13,000. The property lies along Miller street and Sheridan avenue, and comprises at least seven acres. It is on the line of the proposed boulevard along the Ohio river to Sewickley and in case that improvement should be consummated would be much more valuable for residence sites.

More Facts About Deals.

George C. Snow, a well-known business and real estate man, proves to have been the buyer of the Frederic G. Kay residence in Northumberland avenue, which was sold yesterday through the Commonwealth Real Estate Company for $18,000. The buyer will occupy the property as a home.

By an error The Gazette was made to say yesterday that the Hartje Bros. property on the north side of Second avenue, a short distance below Wood street, was 40x80 feet instead of 20x80 feet, the true dimensions. This makes the price per front foot $1,875. Max Friedman bought the lot and, it is said, will build a warehouse on it.

According to the deed registered yesterday the true price paid for the Bailey property at the southeast corner of Second avenue and Chancery lane was $128,000. The deal was handled by the Gordon Smith Company, and the Commonwealth Real Estate Company, and the buyer was Thomas Rodd, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. In part payment for the Second avenue warehouses, there was tendered 137x200 feet at Ellsworth and Amberson avenues, Twentieth ward, the latter property going into the deal at $50,000.

Two Hill Transactions Closed.

Henry A. Voskamp has secured title to two properties in the hill district which he bought some time ago through George C. Norris & Co. One of them, an improved lot 50x88 feet, at the southwest corner of Logan street and Bedford avenue, was bought from Jennie Montgomery for $11,000. The other lot, 17x64 feet, on the west side of Logan street near Bedford avenue, was secured from Elizabeth E. Millar for $3,600.

Plummer street: The Pittsburgh Land and Improvement Company sold to John H. Rhine an improved lot, 24x100 feet, in Plummer street, near Forty-seventh street, Seventeenth ward, for $6,000.

Osceola street: John H. Rhine sold to Fred L. Munk an improved lot, 21x100 feet, on the west side of Osceola street, near Liberty avenue, Twentieth ward, for $4,200.

Wylie avenue: Annie K. Hale sold to Michael Grundy an improved lot, 20x76 feet in Wylie avenue, Seventh ward, for $2,100.

Griffith street: William Addy sold to Ernest A. Geary 24x120 feet on the east side of Griffith street, Fourteenth ward, for $1,600.

W. J. White sold for Thomas B. Gamble to Dunfield M. Cunningham for $2,000 cash four lots in Sherman avenue, Melrose plan, Sheraden borough.

Through the offices of the Aronson Realty Company Frank & Sanes obtained the property, 1407 Franklin street, Eighth ward, 20¼ by 60 feet, improved with a storeroom and eight rooms, for $4,000. The seller is J. Litman.

Through the office of John A. Sharp William Walker sold lots 28 and 29, Ingleside plan, Nineteenth ward, to Roscoe P. Lake for $1,800. The lots have a frontage of 46 feet in Rebecca street.

The Pittsburgh bureau of building inspection issued the following permits yesterday: To Hugo E. Lorsch three frame dwellings, Hedge avenue, Twenty-first ward, to cost $4,500; John Sukling, two brick dwellings, Fish and Howley streets, Sixteenth ward, to cost $4,200; Jacob Campbell, frame dwelling, Graham and Rosetta streets, Nineteenth ward, to cost $2,100, and G. E. Jackworth, frame dwelling, River avenue, Nineteenth ward, to cost $2,100.

REPUBLIC FIGURES SHOW BIG SLUMP IN EARNINGS

Smaller Dividend Requirements, However, Reduce the Decrease Materially.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The annual report of the Republic Iron & Steel Company, published today for the 12 months ended June 30, 1904, showed a decrease of $2,617,243 in gross earnings and a decrease of $2,486,712 in net profits. As the January dividend on the common stock was passed smaller dividend requirements for the year enabled the total surplus to show a decrease of only $611,000.

The company has recently completed its financial arrangements which have been under negotiation for some time. The company will issue $10,000,000 first mortgage bonds, protected by a sinking fund which will form the collateral security for a loan of $7,000,000 on its two and three-year notes. The bonds will be deposited for the benefit of those who purchase these notes with the First Trust and Savings bank, which institution is also trustee under the mortgage.

A sufficient amount of these two and three-year notes has already been sold to take care of the company's floating debt, and to provide for all its present requirements. The balance will be placed when and as the company requires the money. There will be no public subscription. It has not yet been determined whether the bonds will ultimately be sold or the notes liquidated from the earnings of the company, which, with the revival of the steel business, promises to be large.

With a tonnage of orders on the books at this date engaging the capacity of the plants now in operation for the balance of the year, and operating at much lower cost than ever before, due to the new construction work now completed, the company looks for favorable results in the immediate future.

At the annual meeting of the company in Jersey City today, Charles F. Guthrie was elected a director to succeed Edward N. Ohl, and Directors Leonard C. Hanna, George A. Baird, P. L. Kimberly and A. W. Houston were re-elected.

MOORE AFTER BUTCHERS.

Director Forbids Meat Dealers to Slaughter in Cellars and Back Yards.

Director Harry Moore yesterday notified some 60 butchers, who were killing stock in their back yards and cellars, that they will have to discontinue the practice and seek the public abbatoir. These butchers have not the drainage equipment required by the city ordinances to conduct slaughter houses and the health and comfort of neighbors are affected.

Most of the complaints come from Lawrenceville and East End. Residents adjoining the butcher shops complain of the unsanitary condition of the places. Some of these butchers deliberately kill their small stock, such as sheep and calves, in their cellars, which is directly contrary to the city legislation. Meat and Milk Inspector Adler was detailed to make an investigation of these complaints and found some 60 butchers who were violating the city ordinances.

FREE BRIDGES ARE ATTACKED

Act Authorizing Counties to Purchase Structures and Abolish Tolls Before Court.

ANNEXATION DECISION GIVEN

The supreme court listened yesterday to an attack on the constitutionality of the act of 1878, authorizing counties to purchase bridges and abolish tolls. Last March the borough of Bridgewater began condemnation proceedings against a company operating a bridge across Big Beaver creek. The company retained possession and in July the borough of Bridgewater, which lies at one end of the bridge, began mandamus proceedings in the Beaver county courts. The bridge company holds the act of 1878 is defective in that its purpose is clearly expressed in its title. The point is also raised that the commissioners of Beaver county, while they approved the report of the viewers as to the necessity of a free bridge, did not approve the damages.

Two natural gas cases from Beaver county were also argued. The Oliver stove works in Rochester were damaged by an explosion and the company sued the Fort Pitt Gas Company, securing a verdict of $57,796 33. The gas company appealed, raising the question of there being sufficient evidence of neglect to justify letting the case go to the jury and objecting to several rulings of the court. The other case was that of Margaretta Hartman against the Citizens Natural Gas Company, appellant. Mrs. Hartman's house in New Brighton was damaged in an explosion and she was given a verdict for $2,983 32. The company appealed, claiming errors in the conduct of the case in the lower court.

Three Butler county cases were argued. They were: Independent National Gas Company, appellant, vs. the Butler Water Company, an action over the flooding of the gas company's right of way; Joseph West vs. Neddy Mueller and others, appellants, an action on a note; E. A. Durham, trustee, vs. L. C. Wick, appellant, an action over a real estate transaction.

The court quashed the appeal of Gabler and others vs. Black and others. An order was made certifying the case of John West vs. Mary Waller and others to the superior court.

Annexation Act Declared Inconsistent.

The opinions filed in the superior court in the annexation cases relating to the boroughs of Donora and Washington were received here yesterday. Judge James A. Beaver wrote both opinions. He finds that the act of 1903 relating to annexation to boroughs is inconsistent with the act of 1871 and that the last adopted act is the law. An appeal can only be taken when the provisions of the act of 1903 have not been complied with, and unless such defect exists the action of the burgess and council is final.

Mrs. Mary Rauscher has entered suit against Caroline Knipp, her daughter, and the Germania Savings bank. The plaintiff wants $750 on deposit in the bank placed to her credit. She recites that on May 1, 1904, she was seriously ill, and apprehensive that she might not recover, she made an agreement for the transfer of $750 she had on deposit to her daughter. This was done in order to avoid delay and expense of the ordinary administration of estates. The daughter was to pay the expenses of sickness and the funeral and was to divide what was left among the other children. The plaintiff says she recovered, but the daughter has refused to refund the amount.

The Third National bank of Pittsburgh has entered suit against William A. Zahn and H. O. Cameron, doing business as Zahn & Cameron, to recover $8,332 24 alleged to be due on a note made on June 1, 1904, by Zahn & Cameron, in favor of H. O. Cameron. It was afterward secured by the bank.

The Crafton Trust Company began equity proceedings against James A. Wakefield to have an assignment of a mortgage annulled and to obtain a judgment bond, which, it is alleged, should have accompanied a mortgage now held by the trust company.

Verdict Against Policemen.

In the three suits of Retta Edgar against Daniel Walsh and others, the jury yesterday returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $25 in each case. In the three cases of Charles Billmire against the same defendant verdicts for 6¼ cents were returned for the plaintiff. The suits resulted from the arrest of the plaintiffs by the defendants, who are police officers.

"The Flying Squadron" has made application for a charter. Its objects are to promote the social and fraternal interests of theatrical and newspaper men and their mutual friends, to aid members of the theatrical profession in distress and to provide other benefits. The incorporators are Thomas F. Kirk, Jr., William H. Totten, Harry S. Brickell, Charles M. Bregg and H. G. Briggs.

The following wills have been probated: James H. McNall, late of Pittsburgh, leaves all his personal property to his widow and also the income of a farm. The estate, which is valued at $12,500, is to go to the three children at her death. Margaret J. C. Lea, late of Elliott, leaves a $4,000 estate to two sons and two daughters in equal shares.

Decrees in distribution were made as follows: Mary Hagan, $5,124 75; Elizabeth McNamara, $351 75; Patrick McNamara, $3,857 05; Norman M. Smith, $82,598 89; Beulah A. Gilson, $1,082 12; John Pollard, $82 72; Michael Graver, $3,048 87; William Loughrey, $317; Samuel B. Brown, $491 85; Frederick Caller, $490 71; Jennie Rea, $484 40; Elizabeth Brucker, $3,333 38; Bridget Ryan, $888.

Big Execution Issued.

An execution for $61,289 05 was issued yesterday by A. L. Bailey, executor of the estate of Madison Bailey, deceased, against Frank A. Bailey. The writ is on a mortgage executed on February 28, 1902, for $50,384 59.

Other executions issued were: George H. Shickler vs. William H. Gardner, $1,914 39; R. L. Finley vs. George W. Mellott, $10,500; B. J. Thalheimer Company vs. Henry Hamma, $700; W. Margeson vs. Margaret Kennedy, $35; Pittsburgh & Castle Shannon Railroad Company, use, vs. August Weisch, $7,773 15; William J. Friday & Co. vs. Rudolph Schulz, $415 33.

Eight suits to recover on bonds given for the appearance of defendants in criminal proceedings were entered by the district attorney's office. The actions are the result of a new rule of court requiring the immediate forfeiture of bonds when the defendants fail to appear when their cases are called. Delay in the appearance of defendants resulted in both branches of criminal court breaking down on Tuesday, and the order resulted. Among the eight cases was that of John Howard, alias E. J. Pennington, whose bond for $1,000 was signed by Samuel S. Unrue. He was charged with conspiracy to defraud, in connection with the sale of bonds for a motor company which it is alleged did not exist. His case was on Tuesday's list, but he did not appear. Bonds in the following cases have been sued for: Alvis Schuster, Louis P. Brown and Charles P. Felter, Emma Frank, "Sam" Kennedy, Marcel Runewiz, Fannie Hecht, "Sam" Silverman.

Ekas Pleaded Guilty.

In the United States district court James H. Ekas, formerly a clerk in the National bank of Tarentum, pleaded guilty to embezzling $4,000 from the bank.

Edward Lutt, aged 15, of Duquesne, pleaded guilty to counterfeiting and passing counterfeit money. Mrs. Vene Lutt, the boy's mother, is also charged with counterfeiting, but did not plead guilty and will be tried today.

Others to plead guilty were: Alexander Duncan, making counterfeit money; George Craig, having in his possession and passing counterfeit money, and Harry Wingrove, making and passing counterfeit coin and having in his possession counterfeit coins. He is said to have made the money at his home in Hammondsville, Fayette county.

Pierro Fracchi was convicted on two counts of making and passing counterfeit silver dollars. Frank Bosco, charged with illegally procuring a certificate of naturalization, failed to appear and his bond of $500 was forfeited. Sarah Jennings, colored, was acquitted of embezzling a letter. Samuel Williamson pleaded guilty to embezzling money order funds.

The following true bills were returned by the grand jury: Arthur Lawton, stealing bills in possession and attempting to pass counterfeit coin; Frederick S. Stelman, depositing obscene book in a postoffice; William R. Hassett, placing a letter in a postoffice in executing a scheme to defraud; J. Thomas Bender, depositing an obscene picture in the mail and C. A. Livingston, depositing obscene letter in a postoffice and mailing a printed letter or notice giving information where obscene books could be obtained.

PENNSYLVANIA SYSTEM'S FUEL BILL IS NEARLY $16,000,000

The cost of operating railroads aggregates more than any other corporation. There are many items that are not specified in annual reports, but they tend to increase the total considerably. The principal costs are right-of-ways, rails and rolling stock. There is one item of expense that tops all others, viz., fuel. Statistics of the Pennsylvania railroad system proves this. The report for the last fiscal year has just been issued. It shows that the cost of coal on the lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie was $11,194,156 45. For the Pennsylvania company and the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis, $4,436,445 61. A total of $15,630,602 06. This is an increase of over $500,000 over the year previous.

Baltimore's Grip on the B. & O.

"I am not inclined to believe that the Baltimore & Ohio headquarters will ever be taken from Baltimore," said one of the traffic officials who is in the city attending the traffic meeting. "Baltimore capitalists are still heavy holders of B. & O. stock, and about all they ask of the road is that its headquarters remain at Baltimore. At every meeting the Baltimore interests make an appeal to the other stockholders not to make any change, and I expect as long as Baltimore capitalists retain their present large holdings there will be no change. Then there is an economic side to the proposed change. It will cost considerable money to move the headquarters to Pittsburgh. It would be necessary to completely reorganize some of the departments and to move several hundred officials and employes. This always occasions considerable loss, and it is very difficult to convince disinterested stockholders that the advantages of having headquarters at Pittsburgh would be worth the expenses incident to the move."

Inspecting Tonnage Producers.

The freight officials of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, who are holding their semi-annual meeting in Pittsburgh, are being given an insight into the industries that offer tonnage to the road. Yesterday the delegates were taken on an up-river trip in the steamer Juniata, which was tendered them by the American Steel and Wire Company. They went as far as Monessen and returned by rail. Today the party will inspect the terminals at Wheeling and at Martins Ferry. From the latter place the party will leave for Parkersburg, arriving there at 3 p. m., and will go thence to Clarksburg. Friday will be spent in examining the coal regions at Fairmont and other coal region points. A banquet at the Schenley Friday evening will close the convention.

Reach an Agreement.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the United States Steel Corporation have reached an agreement over a small strip of property owned by the railroad company at Riverton. The company owned the ground, but the United States Steel Corporation wanted it for a shipping yard. The railroad company thought the corporation intended connecting the yards with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and for that reason would not agree to turn over the property.

To Improve Altoona Shops.

Numerous improvements are being made by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in and about its big shops at Altoona for next spring and summer. Most of the money will be spent in building additions to the shops and round house. The new large shops are only equipped for general work and several small buildings will be necessary before the plant is up-to-date. A carpenter shop, blacksmith shop, tool house, machine shop and other additions will not be erected until next spring.

PIONEERS' REMAINS AFTER 90 YEARS WILL BE MOVED

After resting for almost a century undisturbed in the old burying ground in Lincoln avenue, the remains of Thomas Ross and his wife, Jane, are to be disinterred with the remains of 13 other members of the family, and transferred to the German Lutheran cemetery. Undertaker Thomas B. Moreland yesterday secured a permit from the bureau of health to remove the bodies. Mr. Ross died May 20, 1813, aged 75, and his wife died November 24, 1814, aged 61. The latter were the first members of the family to settle in this section, and Ross street was named after them.

Pretty Polly Caused Fire.

While trying to satisfy its curiosity as to the composition of a box of matches yesterday morning a parrot, belonging to Mrs. Tillie Coes, set fire to 228 Isabella street, Allegheny. The bird had been left in an upstairs room eating nuts. Finding a box of matches the parrot plunged his beak through the paper and ignited them. The room was ablaze when the firemen arrived and Polly was found under a sewing machine after the excitement subsided. The damage was slight.

"I enjoyed good health until about two years ago when I noticed my back began to ache frequently; it became sore and lame, and headache soon added to my misery; also found that my general health diminished. I became thin and weak and nervous, having severe pains at regular intervals," writes Mrs. Augustus Emory, Treasurer New Century Club, 34 Dean Street (Roxbury), Boston, Mass. She continues: "My work which before had seemed an easy task soon seemed like a heavy burden. I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which several of my friends praised so highly. I felt relief within a week, my appetite came back, the pains gradually decreased and I enjoyed sound sleep. Within fourteen weeks I had completely recovered my health. I seemed built up anew, my pulse, which had been weak became normal, and new life animated my entire being. I gladly endorse your medicine."

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores weak and sick women to sound health, by curing the local womanly diseases which are generally responsible for the failure of the general health. A woman's entire being is centered in her womanly nature. When the delicate womanly organism is attacked by disease; when there is irregularity or a disagreeable drain; when inflammation burns and ulcers gnaw the general health will reflect the progress of disease, in increasing weakness, nervousness, backache, headache, loss of appetite and sleeplessness.

So sure of it is the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that they offer $500 reward for women who cannot be cured of Leucorrhea, Female weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the stomach, liver and bowels.
